students left their mark on the school, community, family and friends by participating in fine arts, sports, academics and club activities.

Through participation and volunteering, students were able to influence those around them. Whether it was making the winning shot, rallying up the stands, or helping those in need by giving their time, students left many lasting impressions.

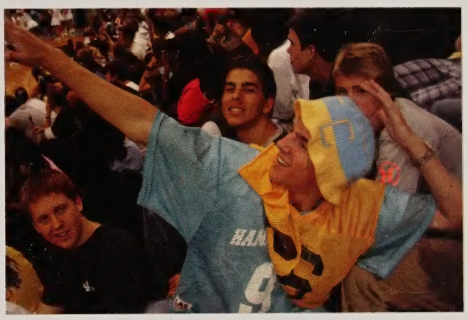
Working on his yo-yo stick routine, senior Shane Whitney practices for his next badge. As an Eagle Scout, he spent part of his summer with his troop at Treasure Island Boy Scout Camp.

Having fun in the sun, seniors Ashley Moy and Leigh Matchett come in from parasailing. The two spent the week in Key West at a leadership seminar, but of course they did not forget to take time out to have some fun.

Sprechen Sie Deutsch? Senior Natalie Klinkenberger enjoys her summer in Germany. She will also serve as our exchange student over there for the school year.

Working construction, seniors Leigh Leavitt and Ben Liston spend part of their summer in Bolivia. On the mission trip, they helped to rebuild a Methodist church in El Alto.

Showing his school spirit, John Hawley parades around in yellow and blue. Pep rallies were always a good way to get students together and get involved.



Doubling up, tennis stars Laurie Morgan and Emily Routten lead the team to victory. As partners, the girls made it all the way to AAA State Tournement.

Showing her spirit, Lauren Cranfill cheers for our football team. Lauren could always be counted on to get the crowd roweled up.

Doctors in the making, Christie Herman and Leigh Matchett practice splinting each other. This was one of the many tasks they had to learn and perform at the National Youth Leadership Forum for Medicine they attended in Philadelphia.

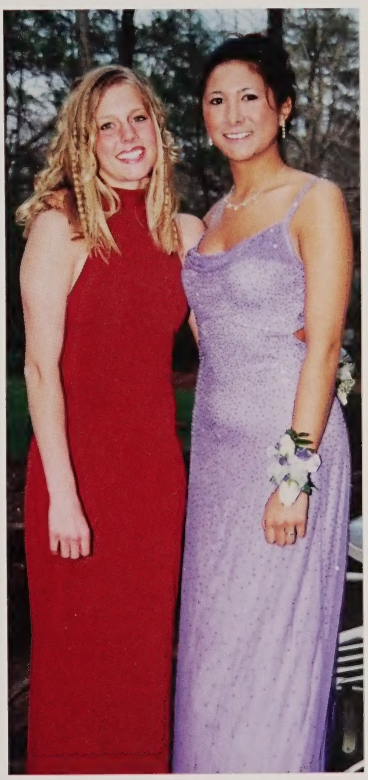
It's Christmas in July! Katayune Kashanifar and Michelle Holliday spread good tidings while working at the Christmas Mouse down at the ocean front.

Hiking the Appalachian Mts., Anna Chapman and Stephanie Granger take a break to enjoy the beautiful scenery. These best friends have been going to Nature Camp since they were little, learning interesting facts about Mother earth.

Displaying her love for horses, senior Jamie Link holds "Mighty Joe", a retired police horse. She managed the stables, led children, and fed and groomed horses at Equi-kids for her summer job.

Taking a time out from saving lives at the Alanton Pool, lifeguards Stephanie Salter ande Christie Herman finally have time to relax. They said it was the best job because they could also get a great tan while they worked.

Taking time away from their busy schedules, seniros Adeskakin Adeniyi, Stephanie Hostetler, and Prince Charles, along with teacher Heidi Wimbush attend the Youth Drug and Alcohol Prevention conference held at Longwood College. They learned ways to help FC be drug and alcohol free role models.



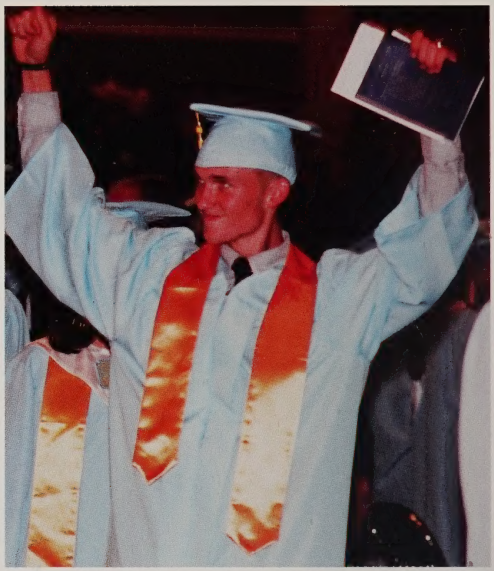
Dressed to the best, Kristen Kenney and Ashley Moy pose for a memorable picture before Junior Prom. These two loved getting involved in school events and as SCA officers, planned many themselves.

Lasting Impressions

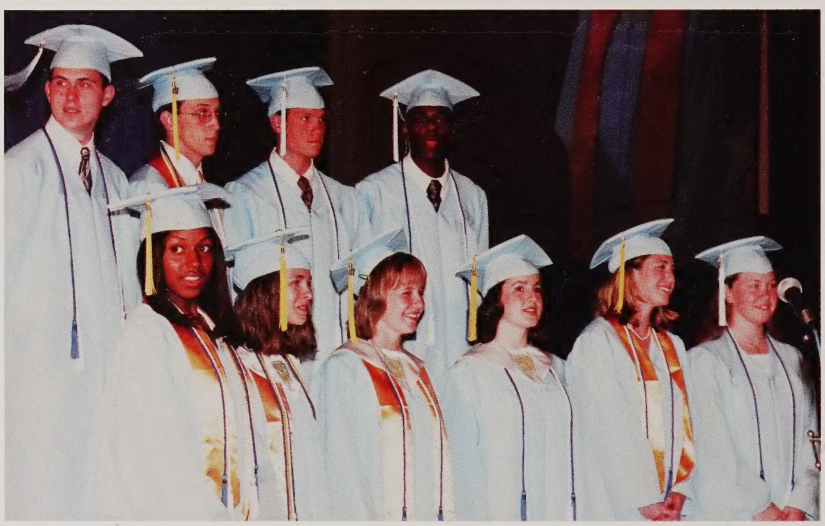
Senior Prom and Graduation - Forever Etched into Memory

The two events forever etched into students memories were prom and graduation. In early June, the Senior Prom was held at The Inlet on the upper deck, overlooking the Chesapeake Bay. It was a clear night with bright stars and a cool breeze. The seniors and their dates enjoyed a fun-filled night of dancing and socializing with friends at one of the last senior events of the year. Lasting until midnight, nearly everyone stayed to participate in the closing slow song.

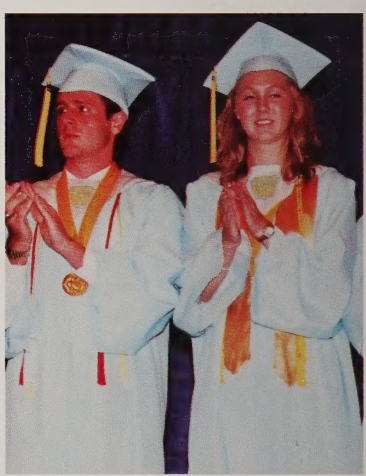
Nervously lining up, the seniors prepared to take their final walk as high school students. Each carried their name card to be read out loud before crossing the stage to receive their diploma. Lauren McHorney sang the National Anthem and Madrigal Singers performed the school's Alma Mater. The audience enjoyed speeches by Co-Valedictorians Jamie Todd and Pasquale Arcese. Once pronounced graduates, blue hats filled the air as they were tossed with much enthusiasm.



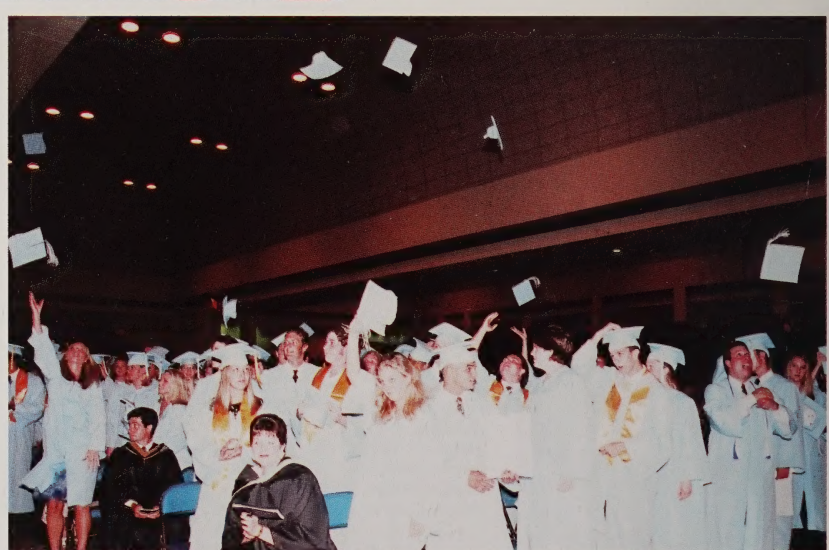
Raising his arms with excitement, Derrik Keltner celebrates with diploma in hand. For the graduates, completing High School signified only the beginning of success for them.



As the seniors processed to their seats, the Madrigal Singers patiently waited the start of the graduation ceremony. The ten singers, who had been together since elementary school, sang the Alma Mater. Pictured from back James Turnbull, Chris Spalding, Gray Summs, Patrick Wilson, Meredith Mobley, April Dinghman, Meghan Gwaltney, Meaghan Hartling, Lauren Zalaskus, Lindsay Kirby.



Clapping their hands in approval, co-valedictorians Jamie Todd and Pasquale Arcese applaud SCA president Christy Nesselrode after her speech. All three agreed that hours of hard work and dedication were put into writing their speeches.



The traditional rite of passage was the throwing of graduation caps at the conclusion of the ceremony. Happy faces prevailed throughout the hall as faculty members watched.

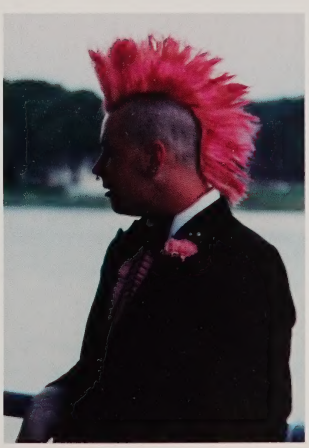
Caught in the music of the night, Jamie Kline and Meredith Siviter enjoy their time together. Jamie and Meredith listened to music from Nelly to N Sync as it was played to keep people tapping their feet.

Heading into the Senior Prom, Deli Hubbard and D'onna Ray turn back for a quick photo. Deli and D'onna enjoyed a sumptuous dinner before a night filled with dancing.

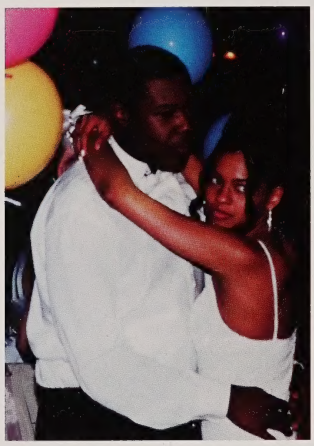


Making a statement about individualism, a student dons a pink mohawk to complement his boutonniere. Some students wore fancy top hats, some tennis shoes while others changed hair styles.

Sharing one last moment together, the members of school's orchestra, Marquita Bates, Holly Johnson, Mike Tsai and Maya McGowen take time out from dancing to say goodbye. Graduation would be the very last time most seniors would be able to be together.

Posing for the camera, Tommy Lenhart, Mike Refo, John Hoberg, and Brian Naylor model their flashy formal wear. The boys were best friends and helped each other pick out the tuxes and made sure each other were put together.

Swaying to the music, Ronald Rodgers and Tara Benjamin get a chance to dance closely. Ronald and Tara found the slow songs gave them a chance to take a breather from the fast pacedmusic.



Getting in the groove, Norrel Meeks, Octavia Searles, and Nijha Diggs strut their stuff and work up a sweat on the dance floor. These girls enjoyed an evening of dancing with their classmates followed by a night of partying with their closest friends.

A Night to Remember

Dancing the night away with friends.

Holding her date tightly, Dana Betcher enjoys being close to the one for whom she cares. Couples relished the slow dances which gave them the opportunity to catch their breath after fast songs.

Getting decked out for the dance, Kimberly Vialet and Lameka Owens head off to dinner in style. Kimberly and Lameka turned many heads that night.

Midnight came too soon for most of the Junior Prom participants as it was definitely a night to remember. An evening full of dancing and partying with friends was important, but even more important was receiving the long awaited class ring. Juniors placed their ring orders in November and waited til March before being able to wear them. Most students traveled in their own vehicles to fancy restaurants for dinner before the dance where delicious food was enjoyed. As Ring Dance/Junior Prom only happens once, many students didn't feel too badly about spending the little extra money to have a good time dancing the night away with friends. Even after a tiring night, most still found the energy to go to parties after the dance. A fantanstic night of fun left the dancers with memories to last a lifetime, but it also left many who needed an extra day of sleep in order to recover.

efore flying off to dinner and then the Junior Prom, Jessica Maneval and Jeb Black ose for a picture depicting their outfits. Jeb was assured that wearing tennis shoes ould be much more comfortable for the long night of dancing.

After waiting five months for her class ring, Eleni Demergis excitedly extends her arm for the Jostens' representative to present her package. Eleni didn't mind standing in line as she could hardly wait to get started with the traditional turning of the ring.

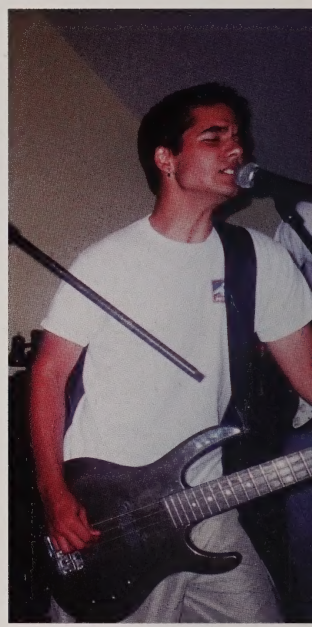
Summer Fun

Doing what we like to do.

Summer was a time to relax, to gain new experiences, and most of all to have fun. But what most students thoroughly enjoyed was the time away from school studies which lasted a glorious ten weeks. Some spent hours on the beach taking in the rays, while others traveled beyond Virginia Beach visting extrodinary places such as the Middle East and Europe. In their various travels, some students became quite adventurous by attempting daring activities such as repelling down cliffs and parasailing above the ocean. The love of music and the great outdoors was evident when students participated in garage band rehearsals and concerts or took it upon themselves to explore rivers and mountains. Others were able to locate a comfortable and quiet resting place to nap until it was time to get on the go again. It seemed the best part of summer that was so special was being able to spend time engaging in different activities with their friends.

Enjoying her summer, Emily Gengler hangs out with Steve and Jack. It was a dream come true for her to have dinner with the band members of Sum 41.

Rehearsing with his band "Days on End," Tommy Gaster takes the lead on the mic. Tommy enjoyed his summer nights jamming with his friends.



Drifting across the river, Jonathan Ambler takes a rest from paddling. Jon spent his forth of July canoeing at Whipple Dam in Pennsylvania while visiting his sister.

Gliding through the water, Sarah Rea makes her first attempt at waterskiing during Young Life Camp. Sarah was able to stay up after a few tries.

Suiting up in Key West, Kelley and Becky Yates prepare to parasail. While up in the air, the sisters were entralled at the spectacular view of three of the islands that make up the Florida Keys.

Sporting the Spirit

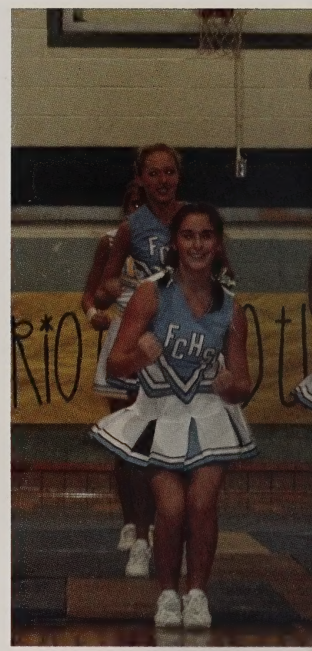
Everyone Got Into the Act for Spirit Week

The week-long activities provided the opportunity for teachers and students to participate each day in their own way. From black and orange day to tacky day concluding with blue and gold on pep rally day, the students and some teachers enjoyed getting into the act. On the final day, pep rally day, the SCA decided to hold two pep rallies in the gym in order to have all students participate. At each pep rally, the National Anthem was sung a cappella; first by Aliki Mataragas and the second by Laura Jordan. The dance team performed, the cheerleaders executed several of their routines, the homecoming court was introduced, and the fall sports teams were brought out before the student body, especially the Varsity Football team. The Homecoming game against Ocean Lakes was the inspiration for getting the students enthused about showing their support at the Friday night game.

Moving to a jazzy musical selection, the dance team moves together on the gym floor. Their four minute routine was also performed during the homecoming halftime that night.

Encouraging the audience, the Varsity Cheerleaders perform one of their routines. They demonstrated their vocal and athletic skills.

Performing her own unique rendition of the National Anthem, Aliki Mataragas soulfully sings her heart out. Aliki displayed confidence and command of her instrument before her peers.



On black and orange day, Mr. William Craig and Mrs. Jimmie Amelon show their stuff. Mr. Craig and Mrs. Amelon were always enthusiastic when it came to supporting the students.

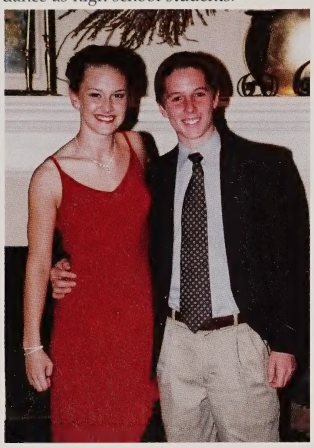
Showing their tackiness are Ashley Davis, Ryan Reader,Alyssa Piggott, Shikena Nichols, Stephanie Duvall and Claire Cucchiari-Loring. Students enjoyed dressing down.

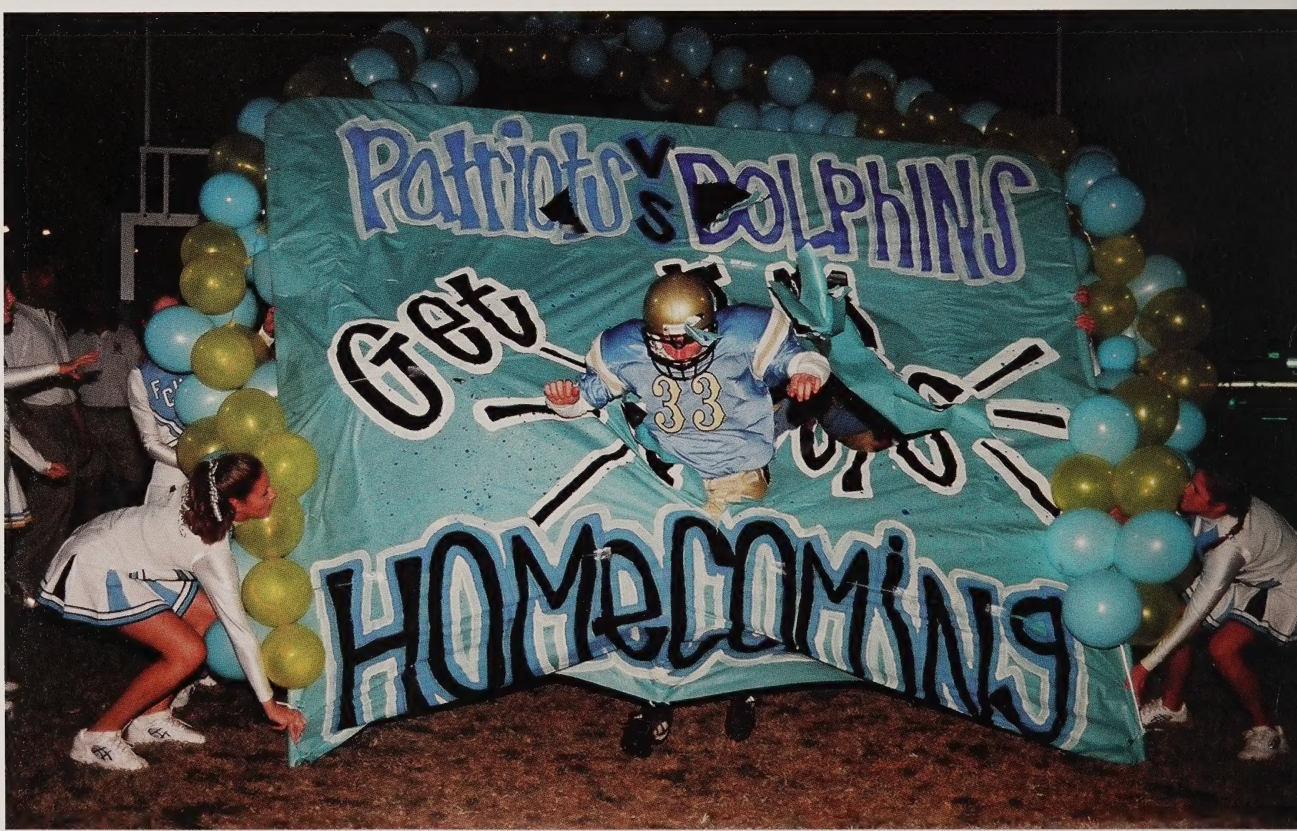
In her gold dress, Laura Jordan opens the second pep rally with the National Anthem. Laura counted it a privilege to perform before her fellow students.

Posing for a picture are Erin Spadaro, Erin Sexton, Mary- Blake Bolander and Berkley Highton. Black and Orange day was appropriately held on October 31.

Homecoming Court 2001. Craig Roberts, Rob Gordon, Jack Donahue, Jeff Severinghouse, Prince Charles, Octavia Searles, Kirsten Samdahl, Molly Beiderman, Leigh Matchett, Tommi Casper, Carin Andrews, and Jessica Heath

Showing their excitement, Freshmen Craig Roberts and Ashley Banek take pictures before dinner and the dance. They couldn't wait to go to their first dance as high school students.

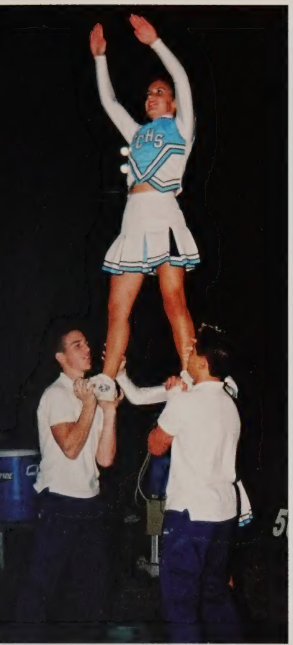




Bursting through the Homecoming banner, leads the Varsity Football team onto the field after the opening ceremonies. The Varsity Cheerleaders painted the banner and attached the balloons for the night's festivities.

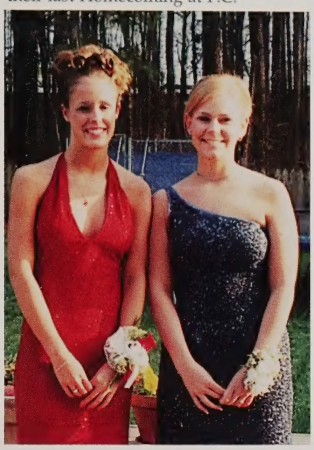
Wish Upon A Star

Homecoming



Yelling out a cheer, a varsity cheerleader rallies up the crowd. The support team below her were a big help in completing difficult cheers and landing dismounts safely.

Smiling at the camera, Seniors Kirsten Samdahl and Beth Otto capture one more memory. They were exicited about the night ahead, but sad about this being their last Homecoming at F.C.



The much anticipated event arrived on November 2nd with a suspenseful football game against Ocean Lakes. With hundreds of fellow students and parents cheering around them, the team pushed their way to a victory that caused the stands to shake with applaud. The halftime show was also a big hit. The theme this year was "Wish Upon A Star." Before the dance, most couples went out for a lovely dinner. Though the game was exciting and had everyone on the edge of their seats, it wasn't quite the highlight of the students' weekend. The Homecoming dance was really what had everyone excited. The girls looked beautiful dressed in their best, and the boys didn't look too bad either. Saturday night was filled with the fun of dancing and socializing with friends. Homecoming was an experience which most of the students will remember for many years to come, and most of them can't wait until it comes again next year.

Building a wall, seniors Andrew Walker, John Hoberg, Tyler Houston, Gordon Templeman, Will Porter, and Aaron Shawnik walk proudly around the track behind their float. These guys were sad it was their last Homecoming at F.C., but obviously made sure they enjoyed it to the fullest.

Cheering for their class, a group of freshmen walk around the track with their float. Many students from every class joined in at half time to support their float.

what SetS uS A P A R T

The difference between FC students and other schools was their great enthusiasm, strong determination, and dedication to be sucessful in every activity of life.

Our students traveled the world, participated in various summer events, and donated personal time which helped make their school a better place for growing educationally and socially and helped them grow into mature young people.

Taking a knee, Junior Eric Henry waits to be called out on the field. Eric said his favorite part school is playing football for F.C.

Taking a break from creating hall signs for the opening of school, SCA officers, Jessica Miller, Kirsten Samdahl, Berkley Highton, Erin Sexton, Ashley Moy and Kristen Kenney pose for a quick photo. The girls also spent a week preparing various activites and decorating the building for the Freshman Orientation held in mid August While visiting Stratford, Ontario, Dan Herson enjoys the "For All Time" sundail. Dan spent a week seeing the sights of our neighbor to the north.

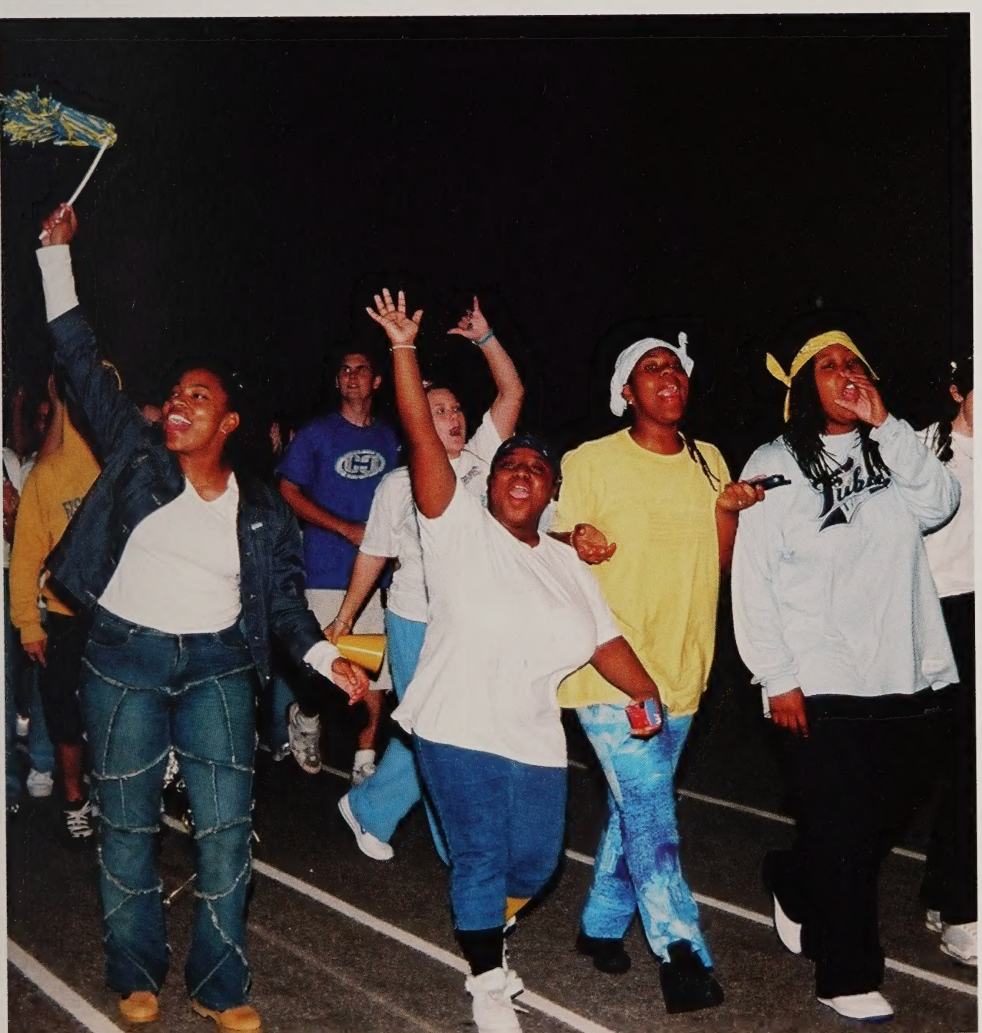
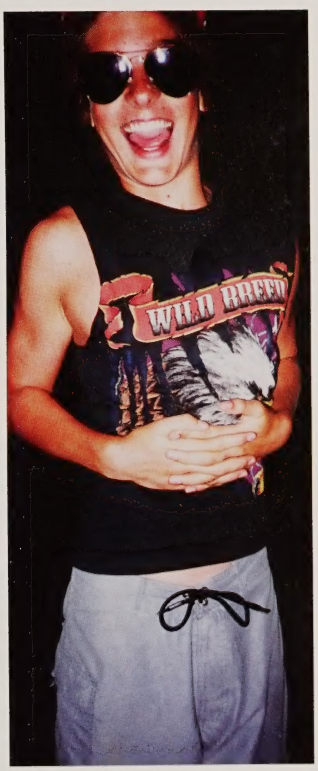
At the 64th Street launch site, Coach Evans gives the first instructions to the team on the proper stroke technique. The Crew Club began their first year by winning second and third place in the women's division.

Making heads turn, Seniors Kirsten Samdahl and Marie Hosseinipoor get decked out for Junior Prom. After pictures, the girls proceeded with their dates to a romantic dinner and then to the dance at Planet Beach.



Leading the juniors in the Homecoming parade are Tra'cee Rowe, Shantel Bright, Alicia Lynch and Tosha Diggs. Students were allowed to enthusiastically walk and cheer for their class float around the track at halftime.



At the Young Life summer retreat, Ted Ricker celebrates winning the game "capture the flag." The retreat was home to about 800 students from across the nation.

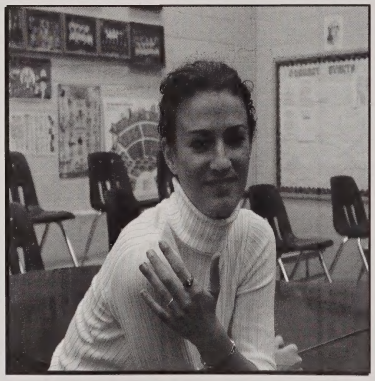
Junior Class Rings

As a long held tradition, the receiving of a class ring was realized for the juniors on March 16th at Junior Prom, also known as Ring Dance. The juniors placed their orders in November and then planned for the spring dance by having fund raisers. Since the dance was held at Grand Affairs rather than Planet Beach, the expense was twice what it had been in past years. Juniors received their rings as soon as they entered the dance and quickly began another tradition, the turning of the ring. Each student's ring was to be turned all the way around for the same number of the year they were to graduate. Casey Cullen remarked, "I couldn't wait for the dance, the anticipation of receiving my class ring was just too much." Getting the rings and planning the dance was a year long process, but Juniors said it was completely worth it.

Admiring her class ring, Junior Emily Routten let us take a quick peek at it. She loved being able to pick out the exact style of ring she wanted as well as her favorite color for the stone.



Casey Cullen enthusiastically looks at the poster for Junior Prom. She was excited about the dance as well as about receiving her ring.

What do you do to be Romantic?

How to romance the one you love? The juniors enjoyed romanticizing with their "significant others" by purchasing flowers, going to dinner and a movie, or just sending love letters as small tokens of their affection. Rachel Piggot commented, "Taking long, quiet walks on the beach, is something really romantic that I have done." Having a "nice dinner by candlelight with soft music in the background is what I surprised my 'love' with," confided Anthony Checcio giving the male perspective. "Making cds of our favorite songs is one way I show my affection," said Emily Routten. Juniors found very creative ways to express their feelings for the one they cared about, and spending time together was important, but how the time was spent was even more important. Juniors showed they had charm and charisma when enticing their loved ones.

What kind of car do you drive?

For most students, the type of car they drove to school was not as important as just having four wheels that ran. Juniors were excited about getting their drivers license, but more excited when they either received a car or saved enough money to buy one. Students enjoyed the freedom of driving to the beach, the mall or just riding around with friends. Although the "ideal" car might have been an Eclipse, Mustang, Lamborghinik Saline S7, or even a Jeep, most juniors drove nice cars like Neons or Honda's.. Not having to depend on their parents or friends for transportation meant that parents were free to do their chores and friends could now switch off drivers. Growing into adulthood and slowly acquiring responsibilities was important, but having the opportunity to drive a car no matter what kind was on the top of the list.

Rollin' out his highrider, Shea Mahoney proudly shows off his Ford F150. Lifted pick-up trucks like Shea's were very popular with the male drivers.

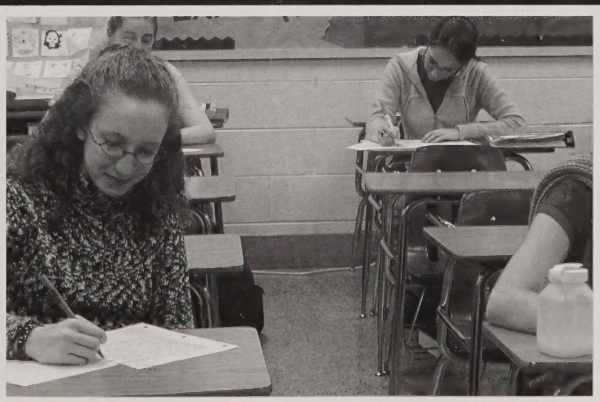
Advance Placement Classes

Junior Laurie Morgan is definitely excited about going to her AP Biology class. It might be hard work, but most of the Juniors who take it enjoy it.



Hard at work, Mrs. Bond's AP English students concentrate on their quiz, or as the students call it their "evaluation." Being amoung the hardest classes in the school, AP English 11 keeps the students very busy.

As important as good grades, the taking of an advanced placement course and passing the exam in May meant that the high school transcript would make a better impression on colleges. For juniors, it was important to prepare adequately for college by demostrating good grades in all their courses. The junior year was perhaps the most strenuous for the above reasons, but advanced placement courses signified that those students could achieve more than just the norm. One of the benefits of taking and passing an AP class was that a student could be excempt from that course in college, therefore saving parents some extra money on tuition. Laurie Morgan explained, "I am taking AP Biology this year and even though it is really hard, it is definitely worth it." Any AP course was stressful, but students knew it was better to get them over with before heading off to college.

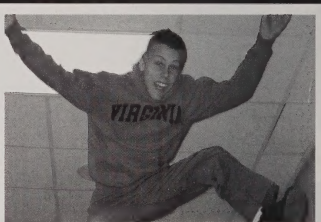
Spring Break: What did you do?

Ah! Spring Break. A time for leisure and fun. The plans made by juniors were to participate in fun-filled family trips to California, Montana (hopefully for some skiing), and the tropical Caribbean Islands for snorkling and lying on warm beaches during spring break. Others decided to use the time visiting colleges both in and out of state. Kirk Scifres was excited about looking into state schools such as UVA, JMU, and Virginia Tech, and while Andy Stites wished he had the grades for UVA, he was going a little farther from home to see schools such as California State, Chowan, and Alaska Pacific University. Students became more interested in looking at their future schools and spring break was the perfect chance to visit. But there were also those who chose to stay home, and enjoy the time off. The stress ended at the final ring of fourth block on Good Friday and signaled the beginning of fun.



Bouncing off the walls, Andy Stites plans his spring break. Andy enjoyed video games and playing gigs with his band.

Screaming in terror, Lisa Barnes, Jeff Tindall, Jessica Maneval, Daniel Valentine, and Matt Cole plunge down the final drop of Apollo's Chariot. Many students went to amusement parks like Busch Gardens, Kings Dominion and Six Flags.

Playing on the computer, Dimitri Boubas was caught off guard daydreaming. "I can't wait to get home to my computer" Ditmitri said, gleefully.

Daydreaming

"A wishful creation of the imagination; a pleasant visionary", according to Webster. With all of the work that constituted being a high school sophomore, many students had been caught daydreaming both at home and in school. The big question was,"What do typical sophomores daydream about?" Responding to the question, Dimitri Boubas said, "I like to dream about computer games and lan parties. That's all I think about during school." This might only be one sophomore's perspective, but it still gave some insight into the teenage mind. Teachers could try all they wanted to keep the students focused, but there were still some students who managed to catch that quick little nap during class.

Favorite Class

Getting Through the Day

Though most students found school to be a "drag" , there was usually one class that made the whole educational process smoother. Whether it was the class, the teacher, the classmates, or even the subject, everyone seemed to have one class which kept them going through the day. Angelica Rosolas, sophomore, shared a little of her own insight. "My favorite class would definitely have to be World History with Mr. Spruill. He just seems to make my day a little more pleasant, and he will always have a place in my heart."

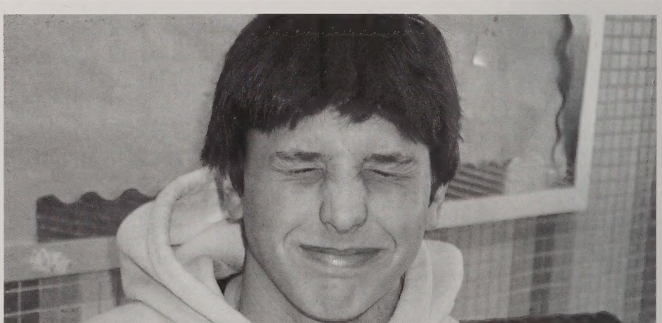
Pranks

Clowin' around was the specialty of some students with some pranks being a little more effective than others. Ernest Sawyer related what he liked to do when he was in a rebelious mood, "I just love prank calling!" he said with glee. " I just can't get enough of it. Most of the time I like to pretend that I am an old Chinese lady and call random numbers, and say tenacious things. Most people just hang up on me, but I always feel like I've just made a new friend anyway".



Ernest Sawyer doing his best "Old Chinese Woman" impression. "Its a have to be there kinda laugh," said Ernest.

Reminiscing through his childhood memories, Ted Ricker giggles over the silly details. He couldn't stop thinking about the time he drank from the dog's water bowl.

Family Traditions

'T'was the season... for family traditions! Around the holidays was the "prime time" for the good Ol' family gatherings. Sophmore Edward Williams Ricker II talked about the activities that his family would do during special occasions. "I'm Jewish, so every Hanukkah my Pap-Pap (his grandfather) comes down from Canada and we all light the menorah. When I was little, my whole family would gather around, and I would sit on Pap-Pap's lap while we played the dreidel."

How Do You Get His or Her Attention?

Getting the attention of the opposite sex was always a challange. There were many different and unique ways for students to attract that "special someone". When asked "How do you get his/her attention" Gilfy Gilfyson replied "All I do is talk Icelandic and shake my bum. The ladies seem to like it. I mean come on, just look at me!" This method seemed to work for Gilfy.

Young Life

One of the more popular organizations around school was Young Life. Although not an official school club, Young Life met the needs of teenagers by affording them the opportunity for good clean fun and a chance to socialize in a variety of ways. Several students traveled to New York during the summer for a week long adventure: a time of study, discussion, singing songs and playing fun games. Throughout the school year, the Young Life students met in room 111 every Monday night to continue their learning of the Bible and how to apply its lessons to every day life.

Posing in front of the club house, the Tidewater group of students enjoy some time together. Over 2,000 students from across the country participated in the Young Life camp.

First Homecoming

The Homecoming events in November caused students to become excited and anxious about making plans,. especially the freshmen since it was the first big event of their high school years. The girls were finally able to wear the gorgeous dresses they had always seen at the mall, while the boys made the decision of where to take their date for dinner and what kind of corsage to get. Even though the girls had the easiest decision to make, all the boys agreed it was worth it in the end. To the right, are a group of freshmen friends that gathered at Lauren Antle's house for pictures before heading off to dinner and the dance.

ADMINISTRATIVE TEAM

BUILDING CHARACTER

The Making of Good Citizens

One of the administrative team's objectives was to instill a sense of good citizenship among the students, faculty, and staff. They accomplished this by first setting a good example, and then by giving encouragement throughout the year for all to rise to higher expectations. With the realization that with knowledge comes power, the administrative team endeavored to hold high academic standards as a yardstick for all.

TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Mrs. Faith Bond 2002 Teacher of the Year

Selected By Her Peers

LONG AWAITED HONOR

"Even after making the final three, I was shocked when I learned I was selected."

In the fall of every year, the administration solicited from the faculty nominations for Teacher of the Year. The nominees then submitted their resumes which included academic achievements, service to the school, and dedication to the students. Finally, the faculty voted for their choice, and the selection process was complete. Congratulations to Mrs. Faith Bond who has been a Patriot English teacher for the past fourteen years!

SPRING BREAK TRAVELS

The Far East

"Bhutan was one of the most pristine countries I've ever seen"

Usually the summers were spent traveling around the world by many of our teachers. But last spring, Carol Anthony and Harry Jackson joined with teachers from other schools and traveled to Thailand, Bhutan, and Nepal. They experienced colorful native festivals and visited the local monastery that trained young boys to become Buddhist monks. They were also able to see first hand the one horned rhinoceros.

Workshop for Ninth Grade English Teachers

Ninth Grade

Many solutions were developed which enabled the ninth graders more success.

Seeking Solutions
On March 4, the ninth grade English teachers were given a professional day to work on developing a better curriculum. Teachers discussed the problems ninth graders face upon entrance to a new high school schedule and the freedom that came with it. Various solutions that would better meet the needs of all ninth grade students were arrived upon during the day long process.

HELPING HANDS

SUPPORT STAFF

Working together they provided a good environment for learning.

Without a team effort and working for the good of the students from the support staff, the school facility would not have functioned properly. Outside doors were unlocked no later than 6:00 am each morning; hallways swept clean and waxed often; cafeteria workers busily met the early morning delivery trucks and prepared the day's meals. Teacher assistants, bus drivers and security personnel all contributed to the daily procedure of the school schedule.

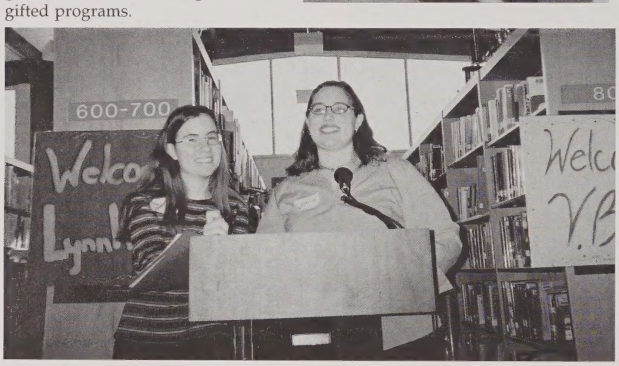
UNTOUCHABLE TALENTS

Governor's School, Think Tank, Gifted Advisory Board, Sparks

Covering their eyes, Think Tank students prepare to walk blindfolded. This game of trust was just one of the many activites the students did throughout the duration of the course.

Taking the correct position, Anna Fabiszewski waits to begin her Yoga session. Students that opted to take Sparks learned the many advantages to Yoga.

Making their speech, Advisory Board Officers Caselle St. John and Rachael Liston welcome students from Lynnhaven, VB, and Kempslanding Middle School. This orientation gave Middle School students an opportunity to catch a glance at the different High School gifted programs.



Smiling for the camera, Think Tank students prepare for their Semester Midterms. Each student had to present a presentation of their choice to the class for their exam.

Displaying their artistic abilities, students in the Gifted program took participated in the annual coloring contest. Ribbons were given to students, whose picture was the most historical, most unique, most scientific, as well as many other categories.

Standing by the Gifted Room Tree, Stumpy, are Caitlin Leonard and Laura Seipel. These two, along with many other students spent a lot of time hanging out in the gifted room.

Strumming the keys, Jessica Miller learns how to play the guitar from Jack Donahue. Jack took time out to teach many students how to play to fulfill part of his assignment in Think Tank.

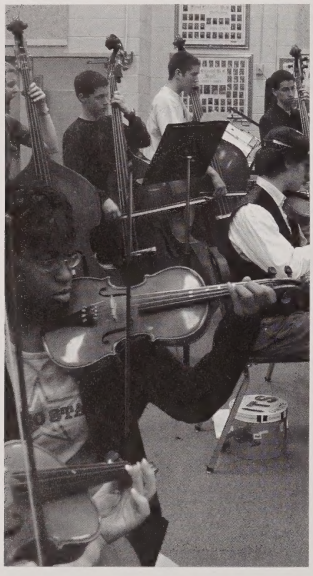
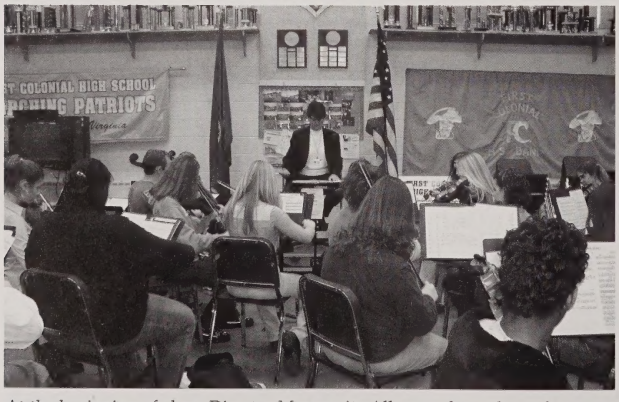
Practicing diligently, the concert bassists, Matt Horan, Nathan Harwell, Mike Davis and Patrick Onofre, run through their music. Their part provided the foundation and rhythm which was the basis for all other sections.

Freshman violinist Jessica Claitt works on a new piece by Aaron Copland. Students rehearsed in class, but were also required to practice daily at home.





At the beginning of class, Director Marguerite Alley conducts the orchestra in their daily sight reading selections. Warm-ups and sight readings were routine activities of each class period.

Second violinist, Kim Harrell rehearses her music before class begins. As a sophomore, Kim proved her dedication by practicing at every opportunity.

ON A HIGH NOTE

Chamber and Concert Orchestras

Leading the violas, freshman Sarah Conrad counts down to the beginning of the piece. It was no surprise when Sarah beat out the upperclassmen for the first chair position.

Working out the kinks in the Zampa Overture, the cellos bury their heads in the music. All of their hard work helped lead the orchestra to superior rating at Festival.

During a daily warm-up exercise, the concert orchestra members work on their technique. Rhythmic precision was developed through students carefully listening to each other.

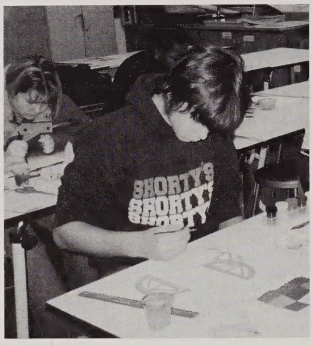
MASTERPIECES CREATED

Paint, Drawing, Crafts, Ceramics, Art History

Selecting the colors to fill her pallet, Sarah Hays completes the first step of her project. Students learned how to mix the primary colors in order to obtain their desired shades.

In the study of geometric shapes, Bo Campbell uses a protractor to design his project. Bo referred to a color wheel to choose the right shade.



Carefully applying a lighter shade to the color scheme, Jamie Marshall keeps a steady hand. Jamie further learned how to develop her communication skills through visual expression.

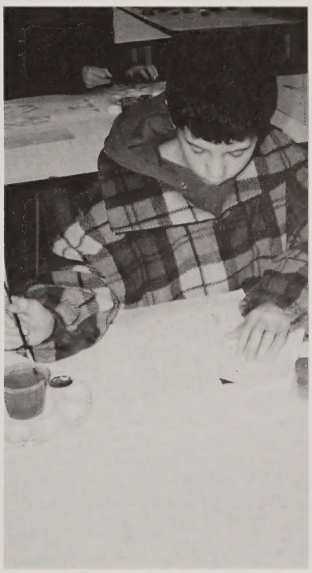
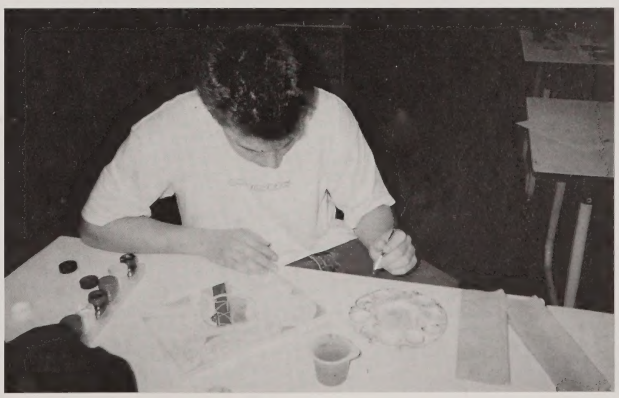
Adding the finishing touches, Sara Macomber completes her portrait of th "Burger Boy." One of Sara's favorite movies was Austin Powers, which used th character as Dr. Evil's get away vehicle.

Displaying his completed assignment, Christopher Baxley gets a smiling approval from Mrs. Kandy Cross. The color wheel was one of the first projects in Art Foundations.

Cleaning his paint brush, Ken Zhe carefully prepares to add a different color. Ken achieved the burgundy color by mixing red and blue.



Tracing the edge with his paint brush, Tanner Manley, takes his time to complete his design. Tanner chose to combine pastels with bright colors.



Contemplating the proper shade of blue, Ryan Restin keeps the colors in the correct space. Ryan held the paper in place while applying each color.

Standing in position, The Drill Team gets ready to march in the Neptune Parade. Some first year, second year, and third year platoons participated in marching down Atlantic Avenue as well.

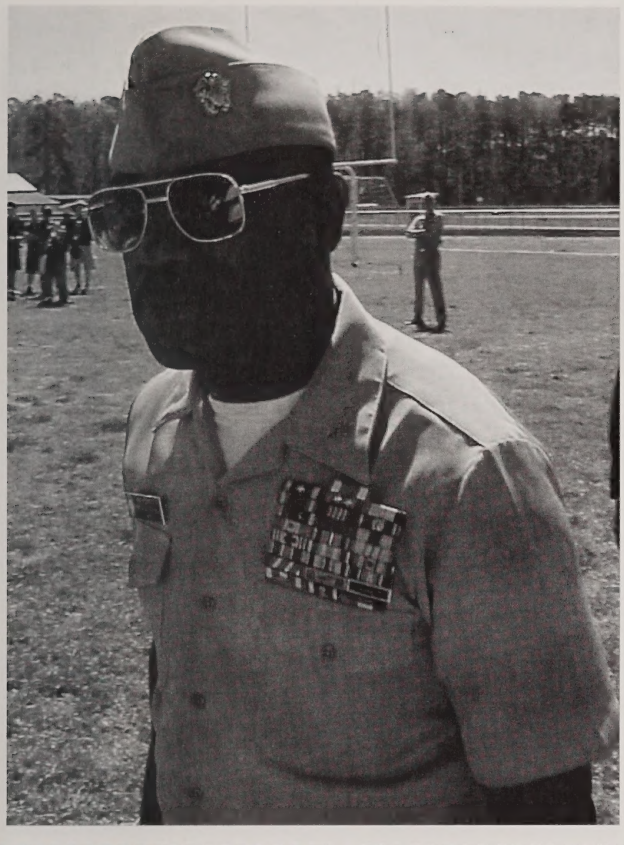
Performing their routine, the Color Guard competes in the York Drill Meet at Grafton High School. The Color Guard was commanded by Cadet LTJG Mark Brokaw.

Thoroughly enjoying their time together, Cadets Drummond, House, Shepard, Brokaw, Shacklee, Morreim, and B. Cooke make conversation as they wait for dinner to be served at the Batallion Ball. After dinner, Cadet LTJG Sara Shacklee was announced as the Queen of the Battallion Ball.

Striving to acquire the highest mark, the Drill Team competes at York High School for the second meet. At the earlier meet, the Drill Team placed second overall.

BEST OF THE BEST

Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps



During one of his final inspections, Chief Warrant Officer Ed Mebane watches the various units. Mr. Mebane served the NJROTC for seven years before moving on to a government defense contract as a civilian.

In an "at ease" position, Cadets Jamie Bright and Rachel Bright begin to learn the differences of procedure. Jamie and Rachel transfered from an Army to a Navy unit.

Serving on the Cadet Staff are Jason Criss, John Doherty, Stephanie Pona, Carl Bierel, David Mitnaul, and Mark Brokaw. They provided leadership for daily drills, exercises and readiness for major events.

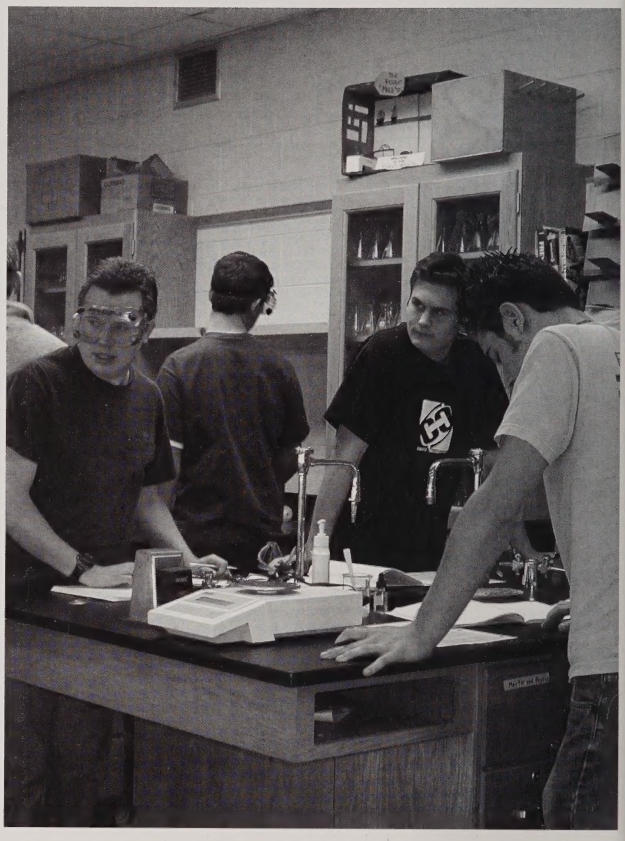
Holding high the American, Navy, First Colonial and Cox High flags, the six person Color Guard marches before the participating units in the Neptune Parade. The Color Guard composed of Cadets Jacob Godfrey, Steve Sherrill, Jason Ambrose, Lauren Shriner and Timothy Starkweather presented the flags at all school events throughout the year.

Attending the Virginia Beach Batallion Ball are P.A., Green Run, First Colonial, and Salem High cadets and their dates. The annual event gave cadets a chance to socialize with other Virginia Beach units.

THE FORCES OF NATURE

Chemistry, Earth Science, Physics, Biology

Before starting their lab assignment, Robert Myers and his group listen attentively to the teacher's instructions. Chemistry students enjoyed experimenting with different chemicals and solutions and documenting the results.



Trudging through the waters at False Cape, Farley Hale, Carrie Naumann, Holly Goodman, Libby Burton, and Ashton O'Gorman try to keep their balance. AP Biology students spent 3 days and 2 nights indentifying various lifeforms they had been studying.

Preparing to do a Work/Force Lab, Gordon Templeman, Mrs. Taliaferro, and Carl Woods gather the needed materials. Gordon and Carl stated their favorite part of physics was all the exciting labs as well as Mrs. Taliaferro's famous primordial yell.

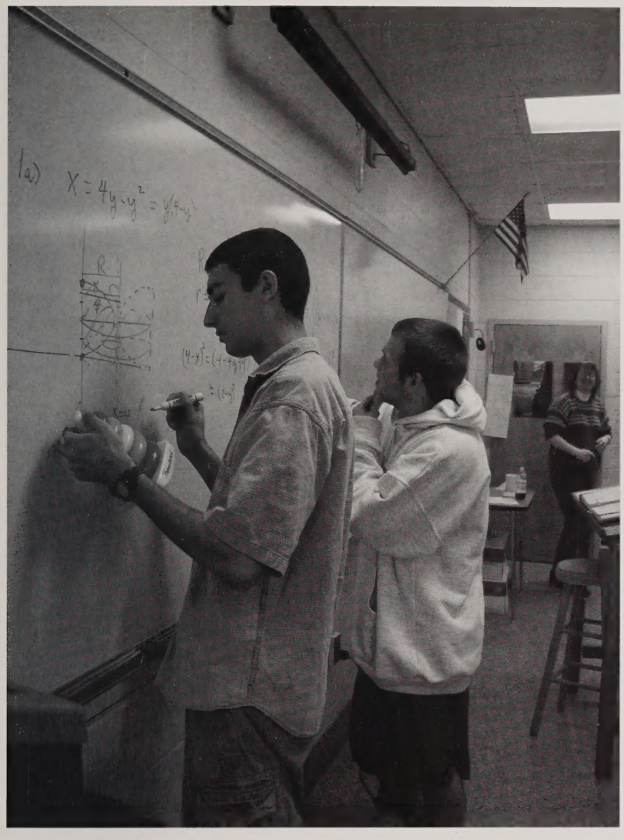
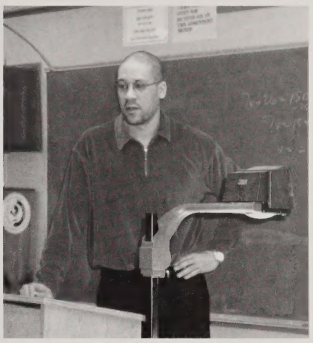
IT ALL ADDS UP

Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, AP Calculus, Statistics

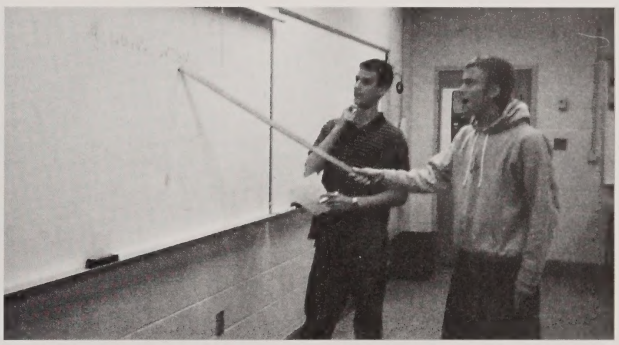


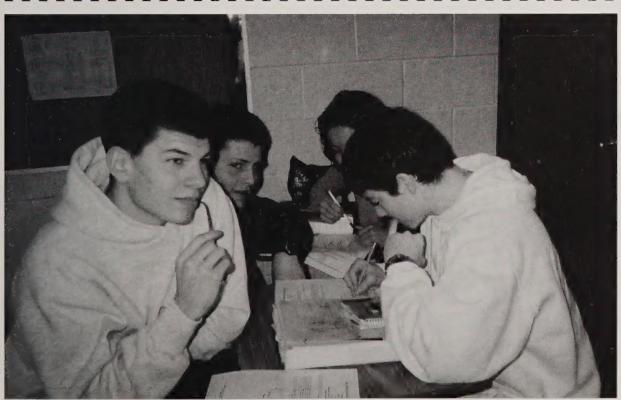
Seeking to find volumes by rotations, Peter Anoia uses a toy to compare with the board example during an AP Calculas BC class. Anthony Checchio and Kathryn Monosky were also checking their board work before utilizing classroom aids.



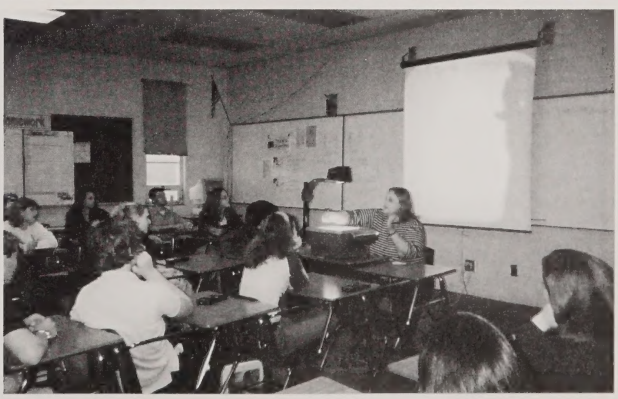
Reviewing problems on the overhead, Mr. Jay Lane explains the Pythagorean theorem to his Intro-Geometry class. This semester class helped students learn the basic concepts of Geometry which would aid them in future math classes.

Stressing his point, Kirk Scifries helps Steven Summs understand the binomial math problem put up on the board. Math Analysis is a pre-calculus class that helped students to prepare for the college level calculus classes next year.





Working on practice problems, seniors Andrew Rhodes, Scott Corillo, Dvon Holland, and Matt McGonegle figure out the answers as a group. Working in groups helped the students to prepare for the AP Statistics Exam in May.

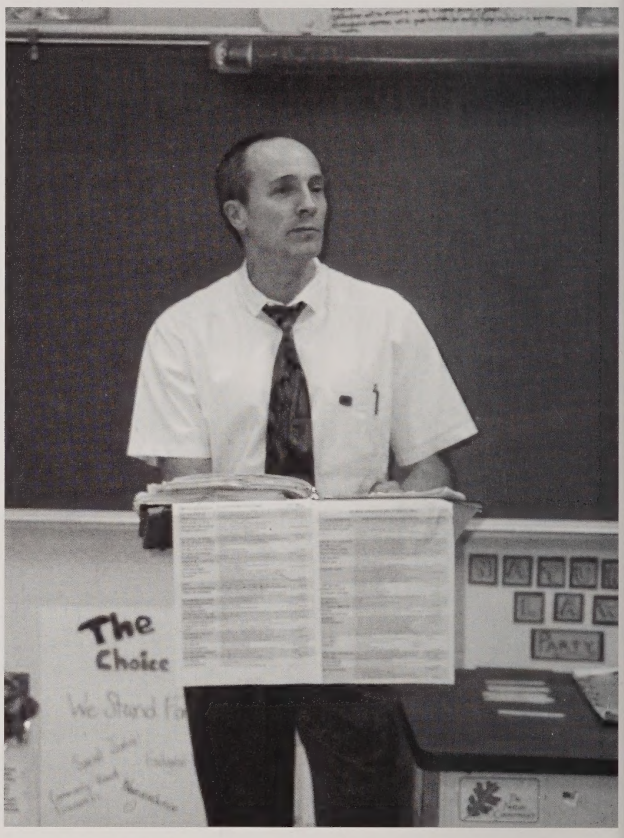


Keeping her students attention, Mrs. Teresa Salzler stresses the rules of the X and Y intercepts. Forming a good math foundation in Algebra I helped the students when they advanced to Geometry.

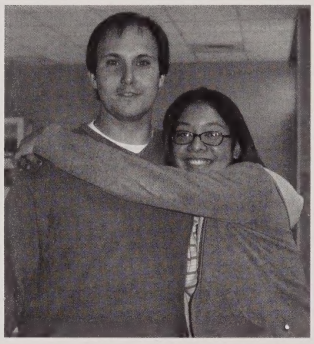
Past, Present, and Future

AP European, Geography, Government, U.S./Virginia History

For each AP Government class, Mr. Harry Jackson, gives an extra creit quiz to review for the AP exam. Mr. Jackson would pick 12 numbered popsicle sticks from a bucket that corresponded with review questions for the quiz.

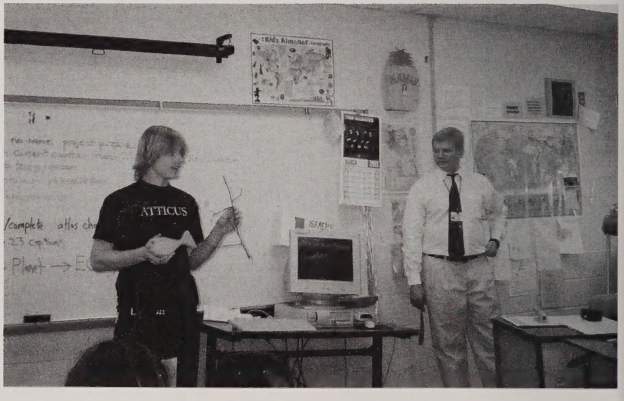


Thanking her World History teacher, Mr. Larry Spruill, Angelica Rosales gives him a friendly hug. Angelica was glad to finally understand the events of Ancient Greece.



Delivering another animated lecture, Mr. Doug MacDonald keeps his class focused on the lesson. Students enjoyed the various voices Mr. MacDonald used to introduce new historical figures.

During a U.S./Virginia History class, Mr. Doug Thompson discusses the Truman Era. Students found it difficult to understand how the Commander in Chief oversees the military, but is restricted by the constitution from wearing a uniform.

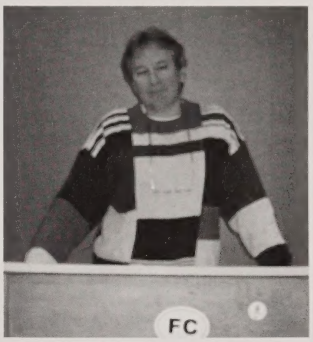


As part of his project, Zach Ford discusses various aspects of Japanese culture. In this World Geography class, each student had to make a presentation about a country of their choice.

Expanding Understanding

AP English, Duel Enrollment, Honors, and Core

During an AP English essay, Chris Lowman asks for assistance from Mrs. Faith Bond. Throughout the year, students in AP English 11 prepared for the AP exam, which consisted of three essay prompts and one reading comprehension.



Using his infamous FANBOYS, Mr. Kaminski teaches his students the easy way to memorize subordinating conjuctions. Mr. Kaminski believed that a good grammar base was essential to becoming a good writer.

Acting out a scene from Julius Casar, Kristina White, Brikeda Jazexhiu, Lauren Sanderl, and Ali Newsome get some acting tips from senior, Prince Charles. Honors 10 English students studied the classics as well as grammar.

spirit of COMPETITION

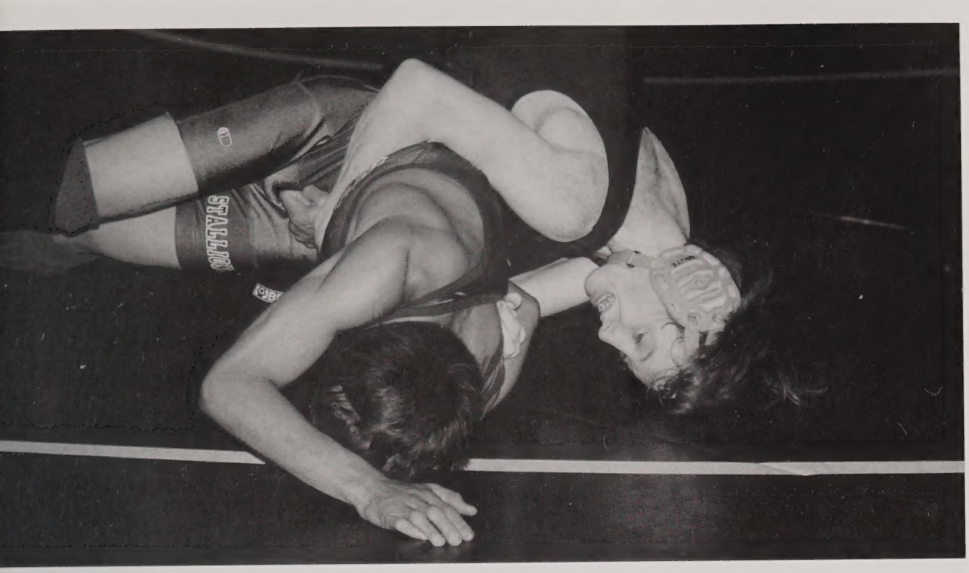
Athletic competitors in every field strove to be number one with the spirit of competition being most prevalent in the varsity teams.

It was primarily a year for the girls' teams what with the girls' volleyball and basketball teams advancing to state competitions. There were also number one positions gained in cross country, winter track and swimming.

On a fast break Aaron Rouse splits the Green Run defense for the lay-up. Aaron's skills and dedication made him a leader and mentor to the younger players.

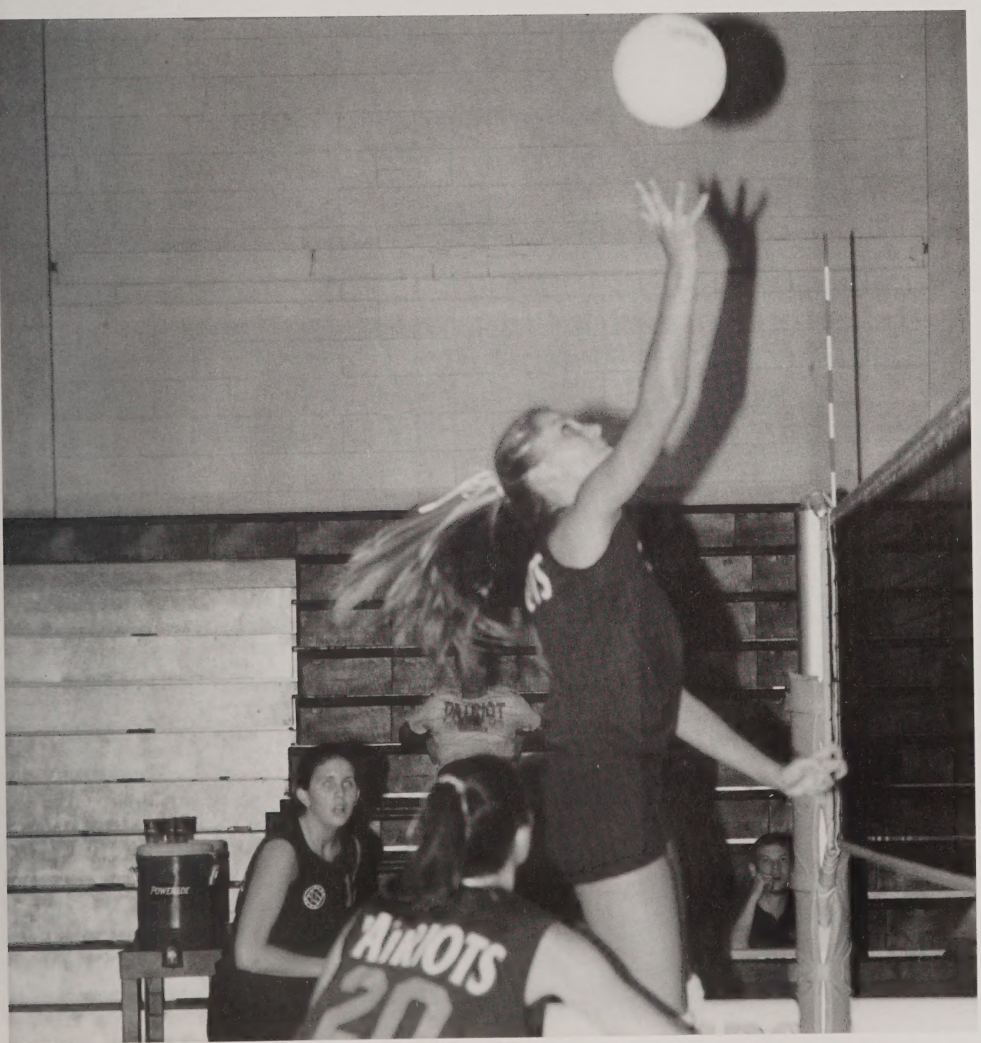
Keeping spirits high, the Varsity Cheering Squad leads the volleyball crowd in a cheer. The cheerleader's enthusiasm ignited the spectators as well as the team players which helped them win against Kellam.

Pitching to a Salem Sun Devil, Jenna Rodriguez strikes out another batter. Jenna played on the both the jv and varsity teams.



Using great strength and determination, Senior, Chris McLaughlin pins his Green Run opponent. Chris' hard work and speed made him a lethal weapon in his weight class.

Running in to block the Kellam defender, Kristen Kenney helps Erin Spadaro get the ball downfield. The two worked well together to maintain control over the ball which led to scoring a goal.



Sprinting the last 40 meters Andrew Foster crosses the finish line. Andrew's endurance made him a tough competitor.

Reaching to block the ball, Meaghan Weisert jumps high above the net. Meaghan's skills and agility made her unbeatable on the volleyball court.

Preparing for the basket toss, Kelley Schiller carefully maintains her balance on Danny Ogura and Jacob Godfrey before being launched into the air. The basket toss was one of the many stunts the cheerleaders performed throughout the year.

Cheering side by side, Megan Glaves and Kerri-Jean Carter start their favorite routine. Megan and Kerri-Jean were very enthusiastic cheerleaders who gave their best at each game.

Getting hundreds of people in the bleachers pumped up, the cheerleaders use their energetic chants to inspire the crowd. Their bubbly smiles encouraged the spectators to become involved with the game..

Coach Amy Martin

Showing their moves, Kelley Schiller, and Shannon Archer lead the squad in their dance routine. The halftime dances during basketball season helped get the crowd roweled up for the second half of the game.

Shouting Above the Crowd

A weeklong camp of learning routines, stunts and how to project the voice began in August. The long hours of conditioning and practice paid off for the Varsity Cheerleaders as they learned to shout above the crowd. Alicia Boone and Captains Kelley Schiller and Shannon Archer were selected to receive the Most Dedicated Award, which is the top award given to cheerleaders. Laura Frieden earned the Most Improved Player Award,and Brittany Schaefer, was selected as the Most Valuable Player. The most memorable moment for the girls was the Homecoming pep rally performance. "They did so well," commented Coach Amy Martin. "The team was not only in great physical shapre, but the team had a lot of unity". The team motto "FC you know, spirit check," helped them get pumped up before each game. The girls also had a good luck charm, "Albert" the mouse. About seventeen hours a week of practice, and great teamwork brought the girls to the Beach District Competition.

Maintaining their formation for several seconds, the varsity team impressed the crowd with their amazing strength, agility and precision. Their orgainzed pyramid position earned them an opportunity to perform at the Beach District Competition.

High Spirits

Keeping spirits high at all the junior varsity games was the squad comprised of sixteen underclassmen. The J.V. Cheerleaders were selected the spring of the preceeding year in a stiff competition. Then these girls were required to attend the summer cheerleading camp for two weeks. During this time, they learned exercises designed to develop strength and endurance for the routines they would be performing. Led by captains Amanda Greer and Jennifer James, the girls learned to work together as a team as they cheered for the football, wrestling and basketball events. The team's strengths were that they wanted to do their best at all times. Selected as the Most Valuable Participant was Lauren Taylor and the Most Improved Participant was Sydney Gingerich. Coach Edwards commented, "The funniest situation was watching the girls trying to decide what pose to do for the team picture".

Riding on the back of a pickup truck surrounded by American flags and balloons, the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders participate in the halftime parade during Homecoming. They enjoyed being able to sit for a short period after cheering for the game.

Keeping the crowd shouting at a jv basketball game, the JV Cheerleaders encourage the free throw. The girls' enthusiasm inspired the team to keep the pressure on the opposition.

Hoping for a rebound, Amanda Greer and Eleni Kopassis urge the jumper at the start of the game. Amanda and Eleni were aggressive throughout the season.

A Step Above

Performing at various pep rallies and during half time at the boys' and girls' basketball games, the Step Team used their routines to motivate the crowd. Their entertaining style kept the spirits high of the team and spectators. Practicing at least once a week for two hours enabled them to perfect their moves and also have time to develop new routines for upcoming games. The girls were versital in the routines, but perfected the aspect of rhythmic precision within the group. Their sponsor, Mr. Ja'Ton Hines commented, "These girls worked very well together throughout the year, and I was pleased to be a part of what they did. They were also very creative in the choreography of each routine. In my mind, they were truly a step above any previous step team I've seen here".

Pictured in their FC sweats, the Step Team members proudly show off their winter uniforms. The girls practiced at least once a week on various routines.

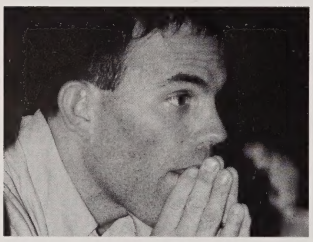
Coach Ja'Ton Hines

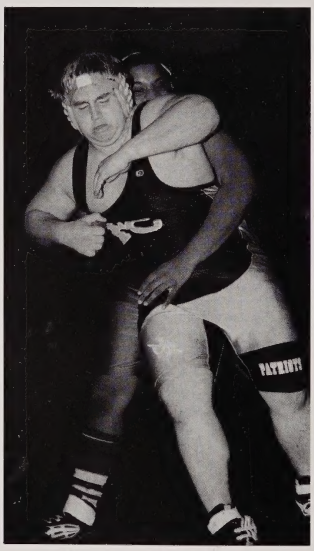
Maintaining control, Chad Burns attempts to break down his Green Run opponent. Chad successfully pinned the Stallion for the win.

Down for the Count

Most of the team was comprised of sophomores which led to a 15-6-9 season. In the rebuilding year, the boys developed strength, endurance and team unity. Anthony Frates came in third at the State Wrestling Tournament held at Oscar Smith High. Mark Barney and Aaron Peterson qualified for Regionals. Selected as the Most Valuable Player was Anthony Frates. Phillip Stephan was presented the Coach's Award for his determination to compete even though injured. Chris McLaughlin commented, " There's no tighter team than us!". The most memorable moment of the season was when Phillip Stephan pinned Kempsville's number one wrestler in the state.



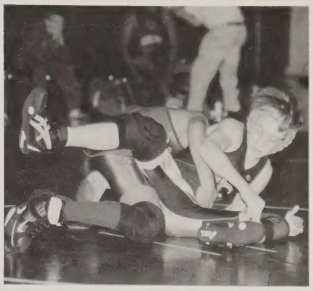
Coach Chris Runzo



Fighting his way out, John Weddle stands and escapes from the hold. John played a key role in the heavyweight class this year.

Discussing the strategy of the match, Mike Maurner,Chad Burns, John Weddle, Chris McLaughlin, Coach Runzo and Assistant Coach Eddie Escobar exchange ideas. Team members and coaches would shout moves for the player to take.

Showing his enthusiasm, Chad Burns encourages his teammate. Chad became very involved with each match by watching and keeping team unity.



As he prepares to initiate a switch, Chris McLaughlin is determined to win against the Green Run opponent. Chris earned the nickname, "Scrappy", due to his small size and aggresive nature.

In a double arm bar, Keegan Van Auken waits for the pin by the referee. Keegan, the smallest wrestler, proved that what he lacked in size he gained in technique.

Making the Shot

J.V. Girls' Basketball

Throughout the year, the JV Girls' Basketball team proved they could make the shot. Eventhough they had a rocky start, the girls demonstrated that they could beat some teams they lost to earlier. An example of this came when the girl's most memorable moment of the season was their undefeated status during the entire month of February. Selected as the team's Most Valuable Player was Ashley Elmore, and Most Improved Player was Kristen Trost.

The girls worked on star drill lay ups and 9-man which were warm-ups used to develop endurance for running the court. Coach Brown commented, " There will be many of our sophomores who will move up to varsity next year, so I'm hopeful we'll recruit several new members". Freshman, Ashley Elmore transferred in the middle of the season, and became the one person who unified the girls and enabled them to work as a team.

Shielding off the defense, Summer Whitley jumps high for a lay up. Summer kept the Kellam Knight from removing the ball from her posession.

Maintaining good control, Jamie Withers advances toward the goal. Jamie's speed and endurance allowed her to complete the fast break.

Determined to get around the opposition's guard, Kristen Trost zooms by her opponent. As a sophmore, Kristen was a strong contender throughout the season.

Nothin' but Net

J.V. Boys' Basketball

Huddling up, the team gets last minute tips from Coach Lackland. The team always yelled "Go team" in a group before heading back on the court.

Throughout the season the Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball team showed that they had great determination and team work. As a promising sophomore, Doug Stumborg was selected as the Most Valuable Player. Key players were Chris Palmer, Doug Stumborg, Ryan Arcese, David Lowe, and Devin Polk. Voted as the team's Most Improved Player was Jimmy Domanski. The boys' definitely showed that they were getting better as the season continued, especially with the double overtime loss in which the boys gave it their best try. Before every game, the boys could be heard giving their chant, "Nothin' but Net!" This gave each of them the inspiration to be aggressive and do their very best at each game. The team learned to work together and realize that each player was important with their own role.

Cutting through the Kellam defense, Ryan Arcese uses a powerful jumpstop to get a shot off. Ryan's great skills as a freshman proved to the coaches that he was a valuable player.

Racing to the basket, Jim Releford gets a steal and shoots for a layup. Jim's quick hands and excellent speed made him one of the team's high scorers.

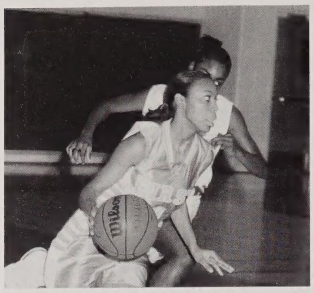
Discussing the strategy, Coach Bowman calls a time-out as the team huddles around for defensive advice. Team unity was a great strength this year and the famous "team" cheer ended every huddle.

Making a break-away, Kim Butts races ahead of the pack for an easy lay-up. Butts was a key player this season as only sophomore she proves a promising future for the lady patriots.



Breaking the press, Kristen Trost finds a gap in the defense to cross half court and set up Patriot defense. Despite only being a sophomore, Kristen fought hard this year for her position on the varsity team.

Fighting for post position Kitara McMoore gets on the inside of the Green Run defender for the easy lane. Kitara was a major contribution to the team and earned the MVP award at the end of the season.

On the Rebound

Fast breaking to an awesome season, the Lady Patriots dominated the court. Led by Coach Larry Bowman and Assistant Coach Don Phillips, the girls exercised new plays and strategies, which sent them to regionals for the second year in a row. Key players such as sophomor, Kim Butts and junior, Courtney Seamon. Earning Most Valuable Player was junior Kitara McMoore. Selected as Most Improved was sophomore, Taylor Watrous. Coach Bowman claimed, "Unity was a major strength this year". Making their way to the district and state competitions, the girls proved themselves to be among the "elite eight."

Using her passion for defense, Kim Butts places pressure on the opposing team looking for a steal. The lady patriots' tough defense lead them to many victories over the season.

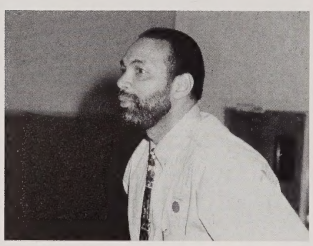
Surveying the court, Taylor Watrous searches for an open team mate. As a sophomore, Taylor was awarded with most improved player of the season and contributed to the many victories.

Coach Larry Bowman

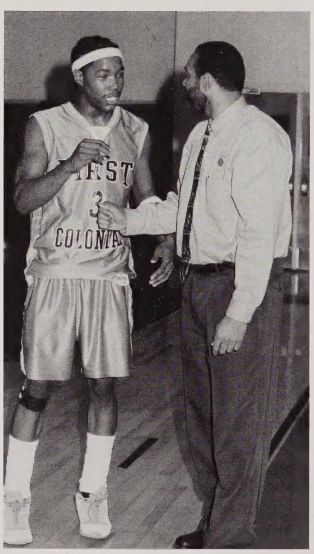
Attempting to get the ball down court, Charles Watrous presses in against the Green Run guard. Charles successfully manuerved the ball around the opposition.

Slam Dunk

With a season of ups and downs, the Varsity Boys' Basketball team experienced a very successful year, overall. The most intense game of the season was the two point victory over Kellam in the district semifianls. Coach Butts commented,"Winning the Beach District Tournament for the first time since 1986 was the most memorable moment of the season for me". The team's strengths was the number of boys over six feet tall. The key players were: Dante Terry, Chris Taylor, Jeff Moccia, Aaron Bouse, Jeff Severinghaus, and Darryl Monroe. Selected as MVP was Chris Taylor and Most Improved Player was Charles Watrous. The team motto was "Final Four!"



Coach Mark Butts

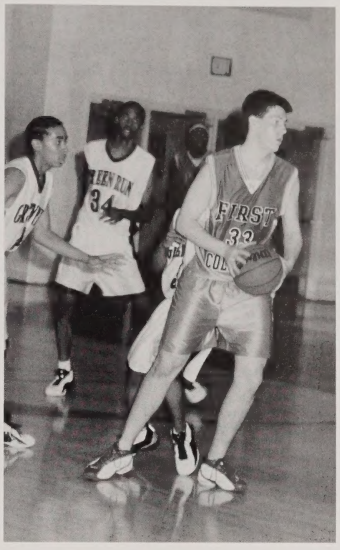


Some final play strategies are discussed by Aaron Rouse and Coach Butts. Coach Butts maintained a good working relationship with the boys.

Getting ready for the pass off, Anthony Checchio advances down court. Anthony was one of shortest members on the team, but one of the most aggressive.

With a quick interception, Aaron Rouse gains control of the ball. Aaron's speed enabled the boys to obtain another two points.

Working his way around the Green Run defense, Jeff Severinghaus looks for an opening. Jeff earned a full scholarship to Davidson College.



Fast breaking down court, Chris Palmer looks to set up the play. Chris was good at mobilizing the boys into position.

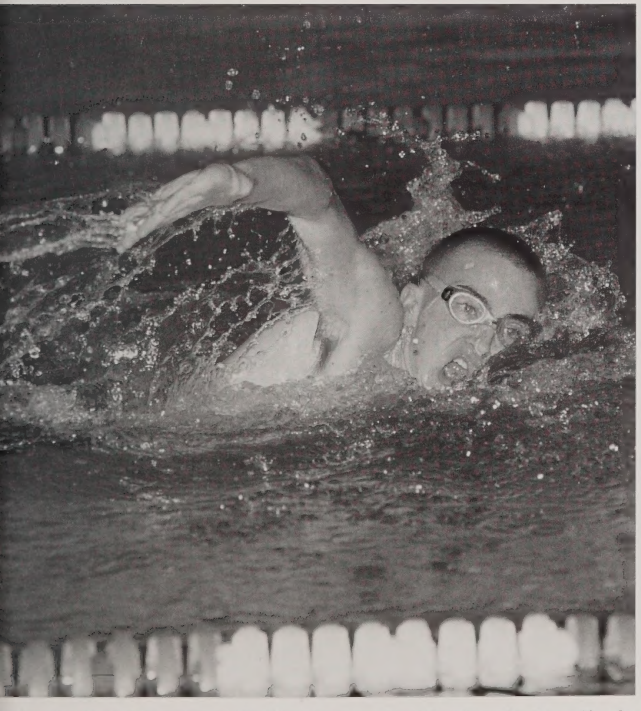
Waking the Competition

Making their way to districts, the Swim team created a wake that flooded the opposition. Both boys and girls worked hard during conditioning as well as seasonal practice time to become a cohesive unit. The most memorable meet of the season was against the boys from Bayside. It was a close meet, but the boys won it. Not only was the team filled with excitement when it came to winning their meets, but anticpation as well while they awaited the birth of Coach Flach's baby. With long practices and long meets, the team grew closer through constantly striving to be the best.



Swimming the last 50 meters of the 200 meter relay, Troy Harrell pushes himself to the max. Troy's speed allowed the team to beat Bayside.

Plunging into the water, Jennifer Schmitz completes a perfect dive. Jennifer's excellent diving skills made her one of the team's key players.

Coach Kim McCanna

Shooting off the starting line, the team gets a good lead on their opponents. Long distance was definitely one of the team's strengths during the season.

Going the Distance

The Cross Country team was actually composed of two teams: the boys and the girls. Proving that they always went the distance, the girls' team came in seventh while the boys' team came in ninth in the district. Ashley Ezell placed sixth in All-District and seventh in All-Region. Kyle Naughton led the boys in the All-District with a time of 18:44.84. The girls' team finished with an 8-6 and the boys finished with a 3-11 season. The most intense and exciting game for the girls was their seven point advantage win against Princess Anne.

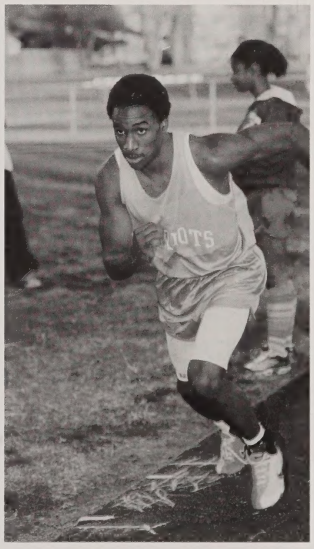
On Your Mark

Get set! Go! The Indoor Track team heard those familiar words many times over during the winter season of practice and meets. Utilizing their skills and endurance which they gained in practice, enabled them to advance to the regionals. Selected as the Most Valuable Player for field events was Khalif Mitchell, and for running events, Ashley Ezell. Coach Kaminski remarked, " The most memorable moment of the season was when Khalif made All-State in shot". The team's strengths were in distance girls and shot putters. Key players were Ashley Ezell, Cailin Davis, Leigh Leavitt, Troy Goldie, Tony Williams and Khalif Mitchell.

High in the air, Leigh Leavitt attempts to pass the mark in the long jump. Leigh's concentration and strength enabled her to land past her first mark.



Sprinting towards the long jump, Najeeb Hamilton digs in to get as much speed and leverage as possible. Najeeb successfully competed in the long and high jump catagories.

Coach Ja'Ton Hines

Coach Ben Kaminski

Showing their spirit, the girls cheer on their teammates. The team was known for their famous cheer "The Shibby, "which could be heard after a big play had been made.

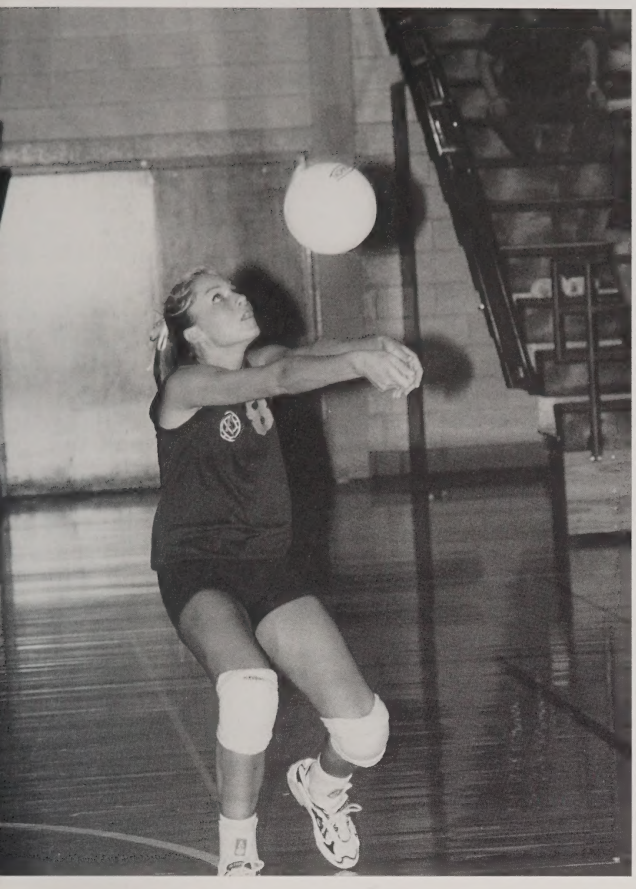
Creating a Dynasty

For the second year, the Girls' Volleyball team qualified for the First Union Volleyball Showcase and the District Tournament. The team's MVP was Maegan Weisert, who played as an outside hitter with a total of 245 kills and 126 digs. The girls amazingly ended the season with an overall record of 24-5, a District record of 9-1, and received the Sportmanship Award at the State Tournament. A tremendous amount of chemistry was created between the girls and loads of enthusiasm was seen at every game. The State Tournament Semifinals was the most memorable moment of the season with the girls defeating Mills Godwin in a close 5 set match that lasted 2 hours and 45 minutes. The ladies rallied from an 0-2 deficit to win the match with a final score of 3-2.

Coach Edie Magula

Making a floor dive, Nicole Fanning attemps to keep the ball in play. The long debated point was won due to Nicole's save.

Positioning herself, Jessica Trice sets up for a hit. Jessica's consistency earned her the Honorable Mention at the All Beach District award.



Concentrating on hitting the ball, Maegan Weisert gets set for the ball to come to her. Maegen was selected as the Most Valuable Player and had exceptionally high skill counts.

Jumping high towards the ball, Kim Chaplin struggles to score against the opposong team. Kim's quick movement and jumping height allowed her to set the ball for the play.

Before taking to the court, Coach Magula explains to the girls the strategy of their next play. The team would then break shouting their inspirational motto, "Good enough never is."

Playing Hard Ball

J.V. Field Hockey

Starting the season with a 2-0 win over Salem, the girls displayed their athletic potential. Sharing motivating words, captains Andrea Aiken, Holly Henry, and Laura Blanchard helped the team achieved victories over Salem, Green Run, Tallwood, Landstown, and Bayside. With many obstacles to overcome, the girls prevailed during the season with hard work and dedication. Kendall Jackson triumphed over an injury and was back on the field after a game in which she was hit twice in the face, resulting in a broken nose. The team also demonstrated strength and endurance during a double overtime game against Ocean Lakes which ended in a tie. Unity and integrity would be the best words to describe the team. No luck was needed for this group to achieve greatness. With rising star players, spectators were guaranteed to enjoy victory in the coming years.

Going in for the kill, freshman Kendall Jackson steals the ball from the defender. Always fighting for the ball, Kendall could be counted on to keep the opposition on their toes.

Stopping the defence, Taber Carpenter steals the ball and charges down the field. Taber's hard work and great handling skills helped the team achieve their goals for the season.

Taking it down the field, sophmore Holly Henry goes in for the kill. Holly's great footwork was a huge asset to the team's offensive strategies.

Battling the Opposition

J.V. Football

Quickly scanning the field for an opening, Harrison Thrift prepares to make a long touchdown pass. Harrison's strategic thinking led the Patriots to gain respect throughout the district.

Ending with a 5-2 season, the J.V. Football team displayed their strength and endurance to each of their opposing teams. Two of the most challenging games were against Landstown and Kellam. During the first half against Landstown, the boys were able to score twenty-one points and eventually defeat them 34-0. Coach Ja'Ton Hines commented, "The team's main strengths were that we had good linemen and good running backs. We could have had an undefeated season, but we had moved some players to the varsity squad." Selected as the team's MVP was Josh Boney, and two players, Will Davis and Drew Short, received the Most Improved Player award. Key starters were: Nekeith Holloway, Kevin Hollinsworth, Drew Shortt Matt Parent, Kyle Monroe and Jeff Duke. For motivational inspiration, the team decided to have a short prayer before and after each game.

Leaving his opponents on the ground, Kevin Hollinsworth uses his massive strength and determination to score another touchdown. Kevin's hardwork and dedication led to him being noted as one of the team's key players.

Flying past the Kellam Knights, Nekeith Hollaway displays his speed as he progresses downfield. Nekeith's strenghth and endurance helped him to be recognized as a leader and potential star player.

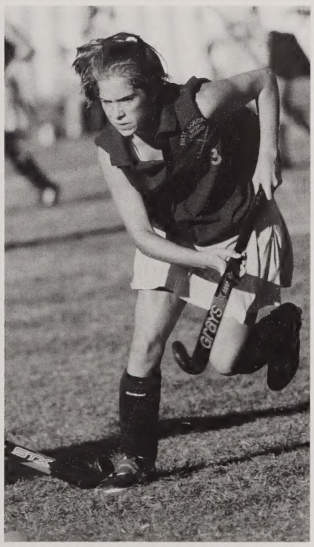
Tricky Stickwork

The Girl's Varsity Field Hockey team ended their season with a 5-6 record and an awesome finish of seventh in the district. Being a rebuilding year for the girls, there was much improvement with the team throughout the season. Erin Spadaro, Megan Whitehurst, Stephanie Duvall, Brittany Doyle and Morgan Sieg were key players that contributed to the team's success. Brittany Doyle was name Most Valuable Player and Kristen Norris was selected the Most Improved Player. Some of the team's traditions were listening to music and doing their hair in a fun way. The biggest challenge of the year was the team overcoming Princess Anne. With only four seniors graduating, Coach Callahan has high hopes for next year.

Defending the ball, Calin Davis uses her skills to defeat Kellam. Calin's maneuvers helped the team beat Kellam 5-1.



With much concentration, Ashley Peay keeps the ball from her opponent. The most memorable moment of the season was when the girls lost to Princess Anne by one point.

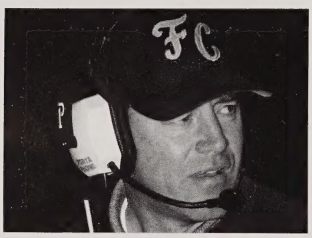
Getting a pep talk from Coach Callahan, the girls get motivated before going back out onto the field. Coach Callahan inspired the girls to think positively and keep the heat on the opposition.

Ansley -
You are such the Field hockey stud. Forget soccer - play a real sport. Thanks so much for making our class interesting. Although you and your buddy were major slackers I think you passed by the skin of your teeth! Have a great summer & see you in Aug. at try-outs!
Ms. Callahan

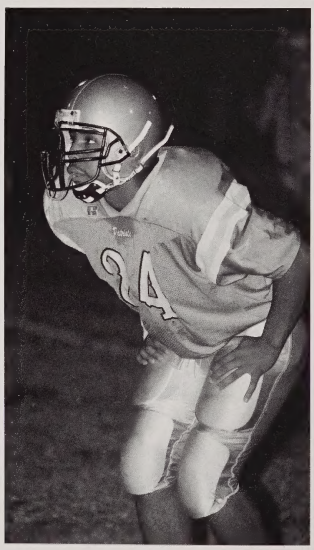
Trying to stop the Ocean Lakes attacker, the Patriot's crunch the runner. The powerful defensive team was resilient all year on stopping any of the opponent's running games.

Hard Work Pays Off

The Varsity Football team's hard work paid off with a 6-4-0 for the season and a third place in the Beach District. Never losing their "never say die attitude" the boys were able to win their last four games as they learned valuable lessons from their coaches, and discovered that hard work was what made luck happen. Knowing that fact, and being led by keyplayers such as Aaron Rouse, Anthony Frates, and Mike Maleski, the boys were willing to give their all. Coach Sam Scarborough remarked that the boys had left the impression on him that they were "Good guys to be around, and the kind of kids that make you want to be a coach."



Coach Sam Scarborough



Keeping his eyes on the quarterback, Sean Andrews maintains his concentration while looking for the interception. Sean's focus and intensity helped the Patriots have one of the best defenses in the region.

Dropping back into the pocket, Anthony Checcio throws a bullet across the middl to one of his many receivers. Anthony's quick thinking allowed him to get valuab playing time in tight situations and help the team to a 6-4-0 record.

Avoiding the tackler, Antoin Roulhac breaks for some yardage. Antoin's power and speed made him a great running back during the season.

With a powerful kick, Spencer Bolander boots the ball on the opening kickoff. Spencer was able to send the ball to the five yard line placing the opposition in a weak field position.

Eyeing the ball with great concentration, Emily Routten prepares for a back-hand volley. Emily's all around play and experience at the number two spot was valuable to the team's success.

Back for the Win

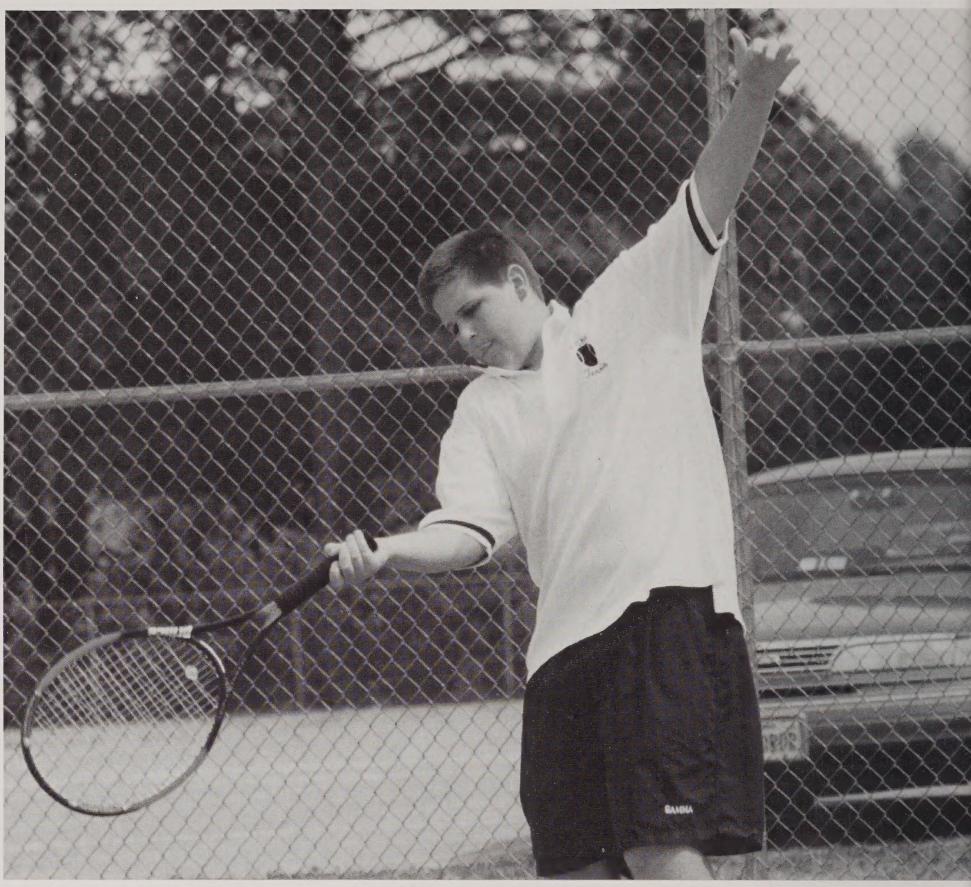
Tremendous talent and excellent attitudes defined the Girls' Tennis team . Key players Mindy Tabakin. Emily Routten, Laurie Morgan, Jeni Detweiler, Sara Polino, and Jaime Withers led the team to Richmond for the second year in a row where they placed second in the region. New player Lauren Antle earned the Most Improved Player award, in addition to Amanda Miller and Charlie Phillips earning Coach's Awards. Mindy Tabakin had an outstanding season playing number one as a freshman, placing second in regionals, and making it to state competition. Bringing jump ropes, ball machines, and music to practice, Coach Diane Deaton had new ideas for the season.

Tourqing her body in preparation for a backhand, Mindy Tabakin puts another shot across to her opponent. Mindy was only a freshman this year but earned herself the number one seed.

Coach Diane Deaton

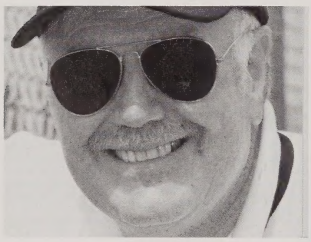
Smashing a backhand down the line, Lauren Antle places antoher shot perfectly. Lauren's determination and hard work proved that even a freshman could lead the team and continue to do so in the future.

Initiating a forehand, Tyler Houston puts another winner down the line. His powerful ground strokes earned him the number one position on the team.

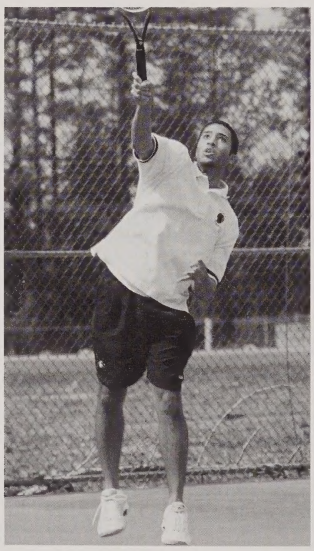


Following Through

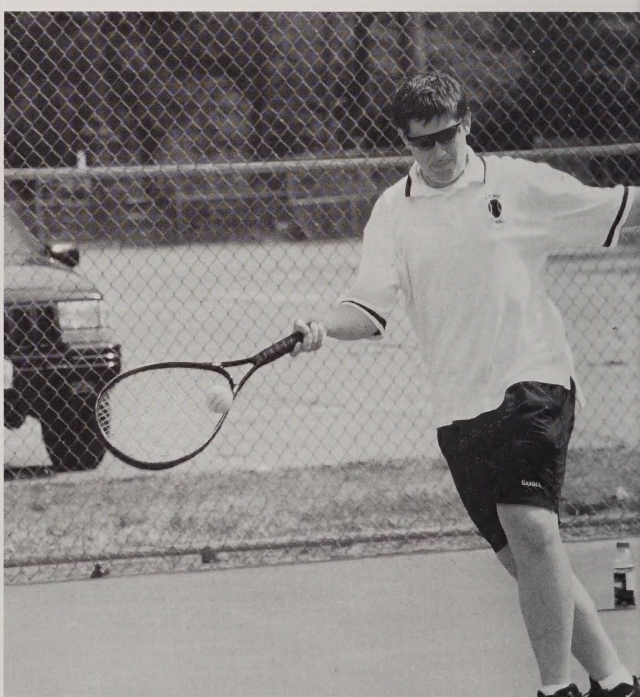
Committed to excellence, the Boys' Tennis team followed through with a 6-3 season. Relating the overall performance of the season, Coach Mather remarked, "The boys' strength was in their singles matches rather than their doubles" Jon Antle was selected as the Most Valuable Player and Nick Jalbert was selected as the Most Improved Player of the season. Key players were Tyler Houston, Jon Antle, and Jerrod Quarles. The most intense and challenging match was against Kellam where the boys held the Knights until the doubles. Coach Mather recalled, "The most memorable match was against Kempsville where we won with a 9-0 score!"



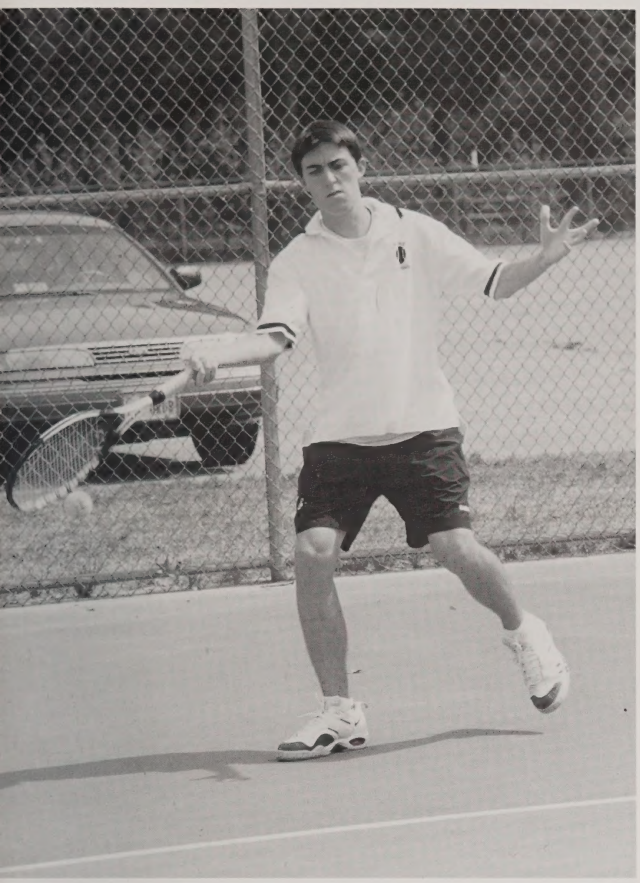
Coach Jim Mather



Putting away an explosive serve, Jerrod Quarles wins the point with an ace. Jerrod received the Coache's Award for his advanced sportmanship on the court.



With a blistering forehand, Justin Throckmorton easily finishes off his opponent. Justin consistently landed a spot in the starting line up throughout the season.



Following through with a smashing forehand, Jon Antle dismisses his opponent quickly. Jon's consistent winning record earned him the Most Valuable Player award.

Aggressively pounding a backhand down the line, Brian Rabchuk is able to end the point quickly. Brian was well known for his long matches and powerful strokes.

Randy Bowden sets up for a perfect top spin lob. Randy's quickness and smart plays on the court kept the team in the top ten spot.

Fancy Footwork

J.V. Girls' Soccer

Pulling together to create a successful season, the J.V. Girls' Soccer team proved to be impressive. Sara Butsavage, Morgan Sieg, Andrea Aiken, Aynsley Birkner and Rachel Piggot, as key players, demonstrated their fancy footwork which helped the team finish with a 7-2. Each girl gave of their own special abilities which made the team unique and strong. One of the team's mottos used by Coach Staci McCoy as a constant reminder for the girls was, "There is no "I" in team." Aynsley Birkner became the team's goodluck charm by keeping their spirits up through good and bad times with her positive attitude. As for Coach McCoy, her parents, who never missed a game, became her goodluck charms. Although the girls had a couple of difficult games, they never gave up. Their integrity, strong spirit, and developed skills enabled them to complete their season with major improvements.

Dashing toward the goal, Andrea Aiken, uses her speed and determination to out run her opponents. She managed to drive the ball towards the goal and pass off to a teammember.

Pressuring her opponent, Jessica Miller, defensively goes after the ball without hesitation. Jessica's aggressiveness intimidated the opposition.

On the attack, Aubree Lovett, fights with her might to steal the ball. Her ability to manipulate the ball away from the offense was her strongest skill.

Roughing 'em Up

J.V. Boys' Soccer

Serving as one of the key players, Nathan Palmer steps back preparing to power kick the ball past the opposition. Nathan's strength and skill in kicking was always noticed by the crowd.

The rough and tough J.V. Boys' Soccer team ended with a 4-3 for the season. Although it was an up and down season, Coach Matt Wallace reflected, "I was really proud of all the boys and their efforts". Two boys tied for the selection of the Most Valuable Player: Brad Kennedy and Casey Terrell, while Alex Rawley was selected as the teams' Most Improved Player. Key starters were Rob Gordon, Andrew Patterson, Casey Terrell, Nathan Palmer, and Ryan McQueeney. The most challenging game was against Kempsville where the boys only lost by one point. But the game against Cox proved to be the most intense. Proudly the boys won with a 1-0 score! The long hours of practice helped the boys to futher develop their passing and kicking skills while at the same time uniting them as a team.

Rapid movement and complete concentration enables Vitor Gomes to strive down field, keeping smooth control of the ball. Vitor proved to be hard to keep up with once he controlled the ball.

Sliding towards the ball and carefully working his feet, Steve Youngblade stops the opposition from running with the ball. Steve was a very aggressive player and didn't mind getting a little dirty in the process.

Winding up for and explosive pass, Jenie Larned prepares to send the ball down field. Janie was one of the most aggressive players on the team.

Pressuring the Opposition

Keeping the pressure on throughout the season, the Varsity Girl's Soccer team ended with a 10-5-1. "The girls experienced many injuries which kept them from possibly making it to the state competition," according to Coach Janet Rowlands. Key players were: Janie Larned, Jennifer Leonard, Alena Baisden, Cailin Davis, Barbara Besal, Leigh Leavitt, Katie Birdsong and Lauren Madey. Selected as the Most Improved Player was Cristin Miller. The most intense and challenging game came at the end of the season against Cox.

Coach Janet Rowlands

Driving towards the ball, freshman Lauren Madey captures control of the ball. Lauren was one of very few freshmen selected for the varsity team.

While carefully focusing on the ball, Katie Birdsong races past the Kellam opponents Katie's strategic thinking kept the team motivated.

Fighting for control of the ball, Kristen Kenny makes a successful pass off to a team mate. Kristens quick manoovers kept the team in position for scoring.

Enjoying their last year of Patriot soccer, the team seniors show there muscles. Their teamwork and great spirit helped make their last season a success

Stepping up to her opponent, Jennifer Leonard uses her excellent foot skills to outsmart the other team. Jens great defensive skills proved her to be one of the key players on the team.

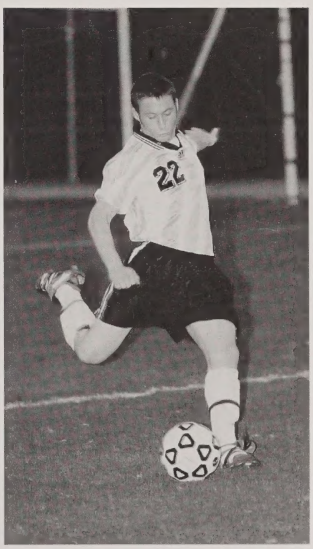
After receiving the ball in the penalty area, Andrew Walker strikes a full volley. Andrew's work in the midfield really paid off when he scored.

Keeping Control

Ending the season with an overall record of 8-6-2, the Varsity Boys' Soccer team tied for fourth place in the Beach District. Injuries to key players Marshall Sinclair, Gordan Templeman, Sam Clayman, John Hoberg and Brian Terrell made the season difficult, but the younger players gained much needed experience through the extra playing time. The most memorable moment of the season was when the boys tied the game against #2 ranked Salem. Coach Tucei commented, "They had to either win or tie but not lose in order to qualify for the Beach District Tournament." Selected as M. V. P. was Mike Maugeri and the Most Improved Player was Steven Youngblade.

Just passing the eighteen yard box, Gordon Templeman blasts a shot. The power in Gordon's shot this year allowed him to shoot from almost anywhere on the field.



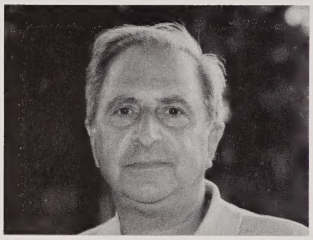
Stepping up the defense, Sam Clayman clears out the ball. Sam's powerful kick drove the ball way downfield.

Coach Joe Tucei

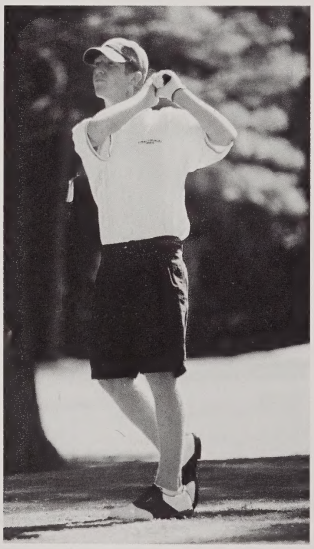
Concentrating on the ball, Mike Gigliotti tees off. His long, hard drives helped him to earn the Most Valuable Player Award.

Perfect Form

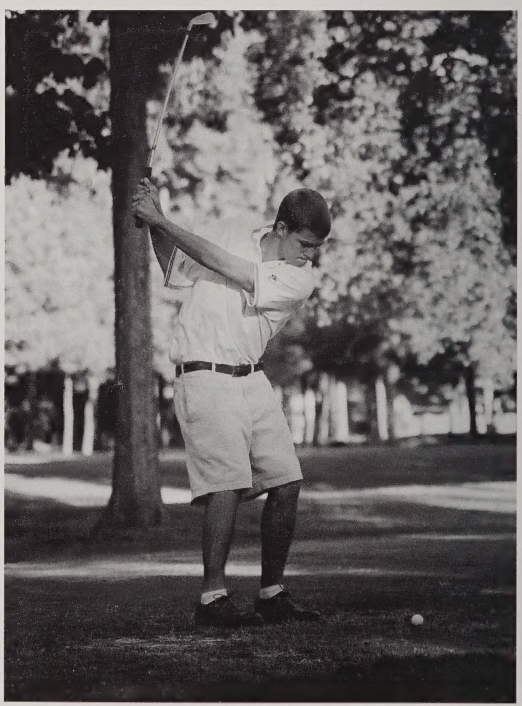
Showing perfect form with no weaknesses, the Golf team concluded their season with nine wins and two losses. Coach Anthony remarked, "The most memorable moment during the season was when the boys shot a 287; just six shots off the state record!" Hard work, determination, and self motivation were just a few of the attributes which described the starting line-up. The MVP was Mike Gigliotti and key players were Mike Gigliotti, Shane Kosuch, Jeff Biggs, Drew Hurst, John Holberg, and Clint Compton,. Looking forward to next season, Coach Anthony commented," These boys actually set very high expectations for themselves."



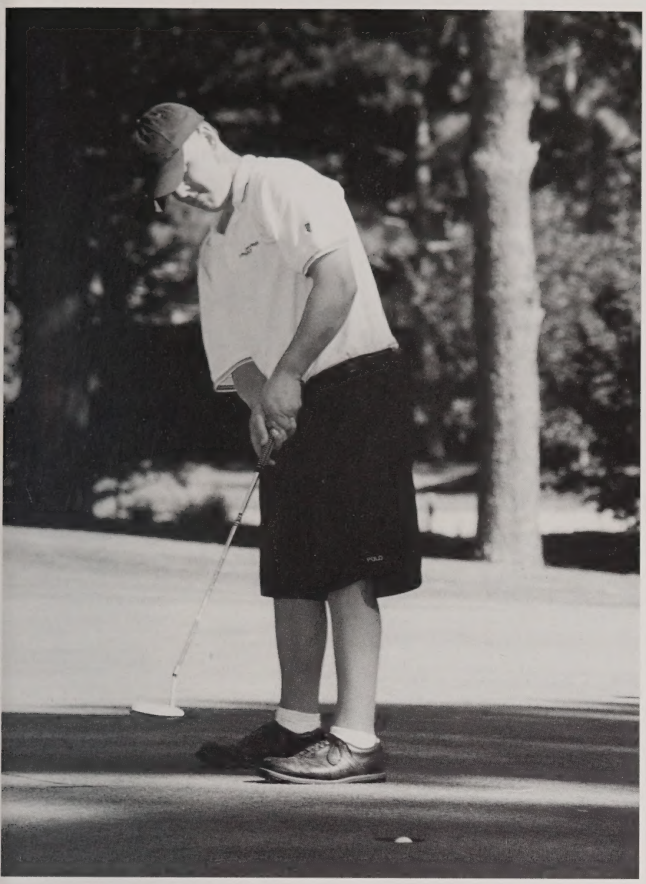
Coach Leo Anthony



Showing perfect form on his follow through, Drew Herst admires his shot. Drew's accuracy and percision always helped him to start off each hole with a good lead.



Eyeing the ball, Clint Compton prepares to punch the ball down the fairway. Throughout the team, Clint was known for staying focused in difficult situations.



Sinking his putt, Jeff Biggs ends another hole quickly. Jeff contributed greatly to the team's score with his excellent putting skills.

Following through on a powerful drive, Shane Kozch searches for his ball down the fairway. With long hours of practice, Shane was able to perfect his drive as well as earn the Most Improved Player Award.

Getting out of trouble, John Hoberg lifts the ball from the sand trap. Known for his specialty shots, John was able to land the ball just a few inches from the hole.

Sliding In

J.V. Girls' Softball

Leading off with a 52-0 win over Bayside, the Lady Patriots showed much promise. The first game of the season was only a glimpse of the victories that were yet to come. With starting players: Kaitlin Dennis, Danielle Jessup, Jenna Rodriguez, Kristen Hall, Micque Parker, and Melanie Snedeker, the team began every game ready to work and ready to win. The team's constant practice and tedious drilling was definitely obvious when the girls beat Ocean Lakes 3-0, making it their most memorable moment. Working hard all season, the strengths of timely hitting and solid fielding were noticeable when watching from the sidelines. "The team started strong and ended strong," according to Coach Steve Butler. The girls had a great season that ended with a 5-5 record. The J.V. Lady Patriots Softball team worked hard and displayed unity both on and off the field.

Sliding home, outfielder Michelle Smith scores another run. Michelle's ability to float between J.V. and Varsity brought experience to the J.V. team.

Diving back to first base, Co-captain Kristen Hall beats the tag. Kristen's quick thinking throughout the season scored her the MVP award.

Firing the third strike, pitcher Jenna Rodriguez strikes out yet another batter. Jenna Pitched a great game, and led the team to vicotry.

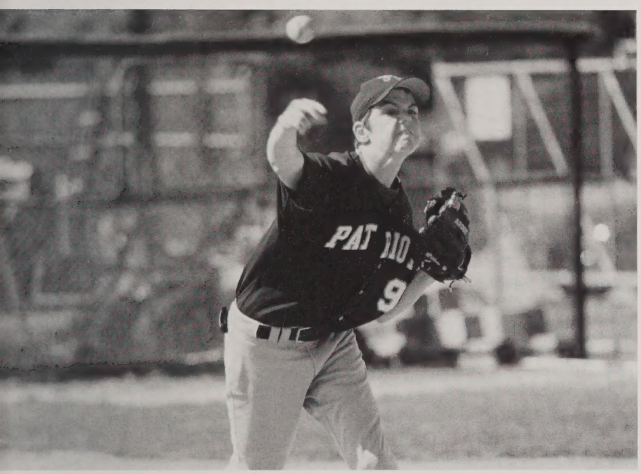
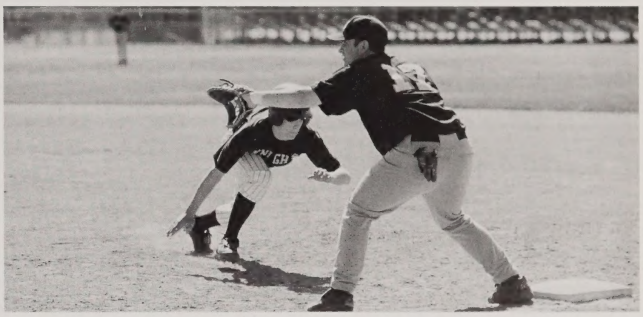
Roughing 'em Up

J.V. Boys' Baseball

Smashing the ball for a line drive, Andrew Orr scores another run for the team. Andrew's RBI helped secure the team's win in the sixth inning.

Starting out their season with an awesome first game win of 12- 2 over Bayside, the J.V. Boys' Baseball team was prepared for a great year. They kept up the pace and ended with a 5-5 record. Coach Parsons commented, "We were young and continued to improve throughout the season." With the help of key players such as Burt Wilson, Chad McKinney, David Gretz, Shane Kozuch, Jason Keltner, Dallas McGovern, and Tim Redinger the team developed solid defense and good pitching. Earning the Most Improved Player award was David Gretz. But the most memorable moment of the season came when Most Valuable Player Nic Cruit's three run homer in the last inning enabled the team to beat Kempsville. The great season they had shows excellent potential for the future with eight members advancing to Varsity.





Firing the ball across the field Chad McKinney makes another great play. Chad's great defensive skills prevented the Knights from scoring 2 runs in the eighth inning.

Preventing a dive at first base, David Gretz tags a Kellam Knight for another out. David's improvment over the season made him an important part of the team, also earning him the Most Improved Player award.

Swinging full-force, outfielder Liz Dunlap goes after the ball. Liz's ability to hit the ball into the outfield landed her a spot on base almost every time she was at bat.

Take it to the House!

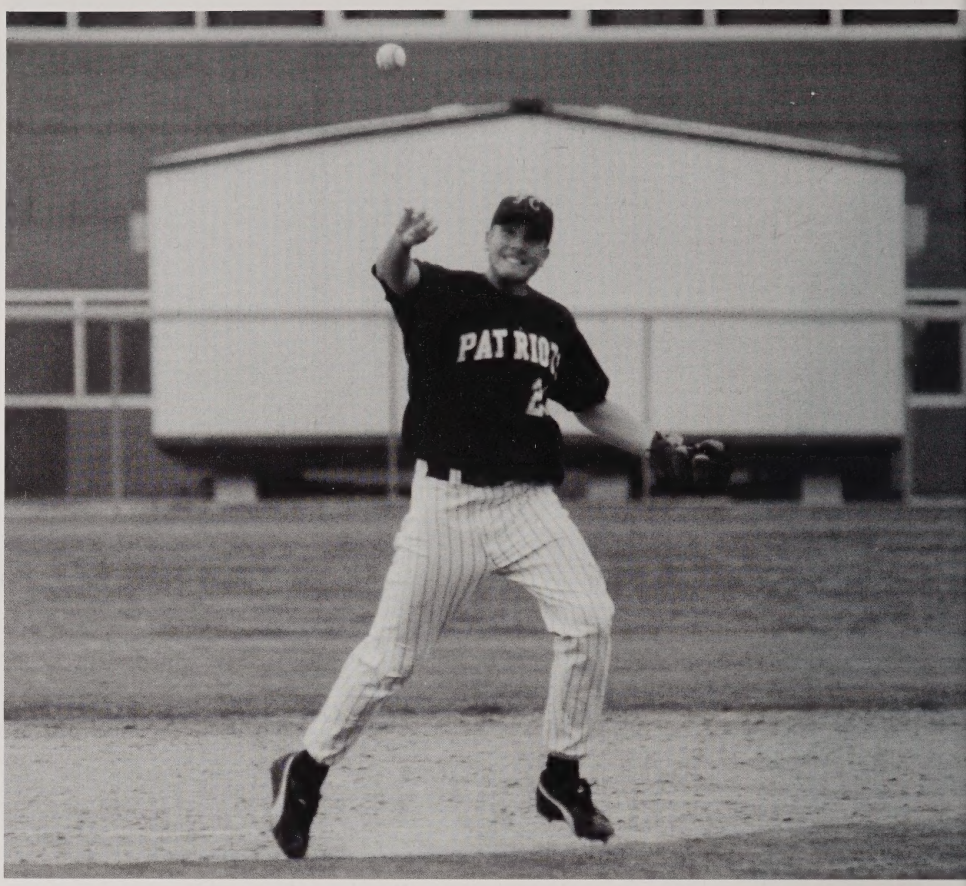
"Never give up," was the attitude displayed by the Varsity Softball team the entire season. With the leadership of MVP Molly Beiderman and key players Jenny Bell, Jenine Land, and Nikki Fanning, the girls stuck together and played their best. Working hard and practicing long hours paid off when they won their second game 3-0 against Green Run. The season was full of surprises, the biggest one being during the second game against Salem. The girls came from behind and went on to win the game by one run. Ending the season with three wins, the girls definitely proved their potential.

Ready to make the double play, short stop Heather Hutchins gets the ball. Being quick on her feet every time was one of Heather's strong points.

Rounding third base, catcher Nicole Fanning goes to socre another run. Nicole's smart base running helped lead the team to a victory over Kellam.

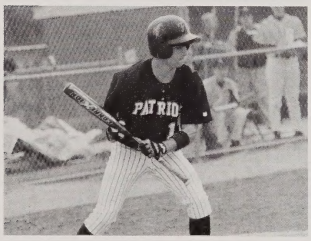
Coach Steve Beam

Fielding the ball, Bobby Isenburg makes a quick throw to homeplate. Bobby's speed and fast thinking helped to throw-out the runner attempting to score a run.

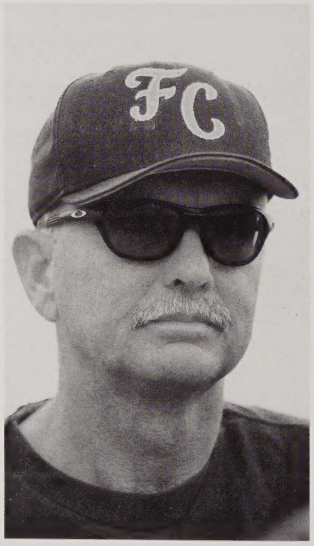


Swinging Again

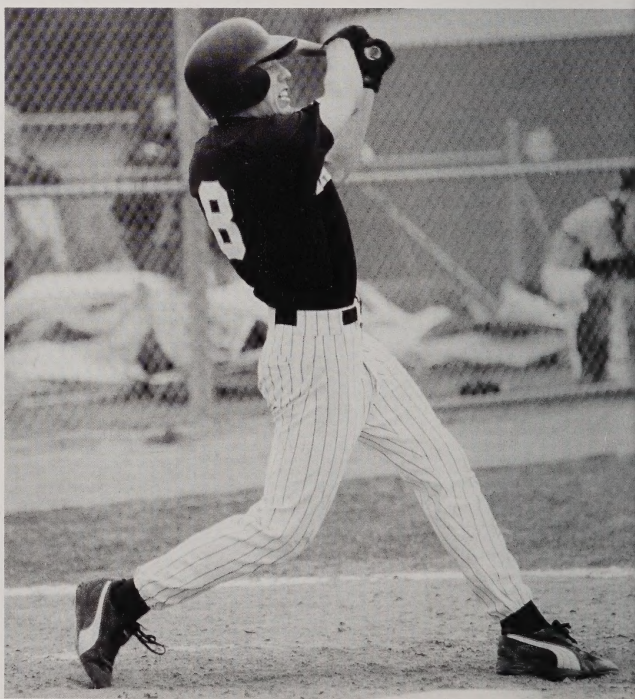
The Varsity Baseball team used their intelligent thinking and solid fundamentals to come through with a 12-8 record. The team started training in early March so they could physically and mentally prepare for the tough season ahead. All of the preparation paid off for them in the Beach District Championship game when they came back against the Kellam Knights to win 10-5. They made up a six run deficit in the last inning to keep the fans on the edge of their seats. The team's usual stars came through again this season with great plays from Bobby Isenburg, Brian Langboard, Keyvon Hosseinipoor, and Zach Baker. Even with the loss of many talented seniors, the players look foward to next year's challenging season.



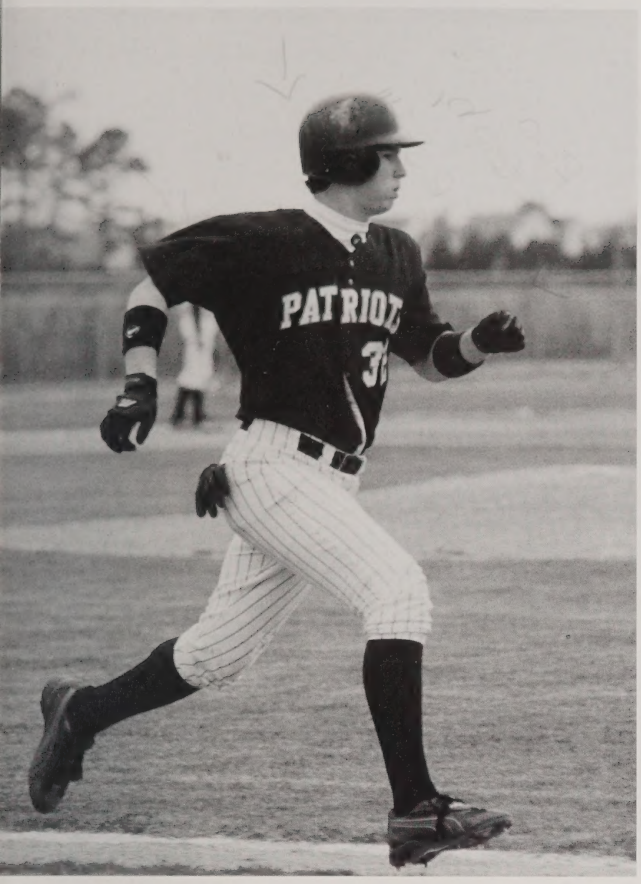
Stepping up to bat, Kayvon Hosseinipoor lays down a bunt to advance the runners into scoring position. Kayvon's hitting consistency always helped the team in tight situations.



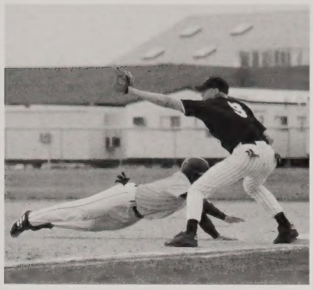
Coach Norbie Wilson



With perfect rotation, Mark Reynolds connects for a stand-up double. Mark's power hitting helped the Patriots to earn many runs throughout the season.



After a shot to shallow right, Andrew Casey stretches for a single. Andrew's determination and hard work proved to be a crucial part of his success this year.



Lunging for the ball, Colin Robinson attempts to tag out the runner. Colin's excellent defensive skills and experience completed the team's extrodinary infield.

Putting everything behind his fastball, Zach Baker strikes out another batter. Zach's JV years were spent behind the plate, but his skills on the mound also proved to be an important asset to the team's success.

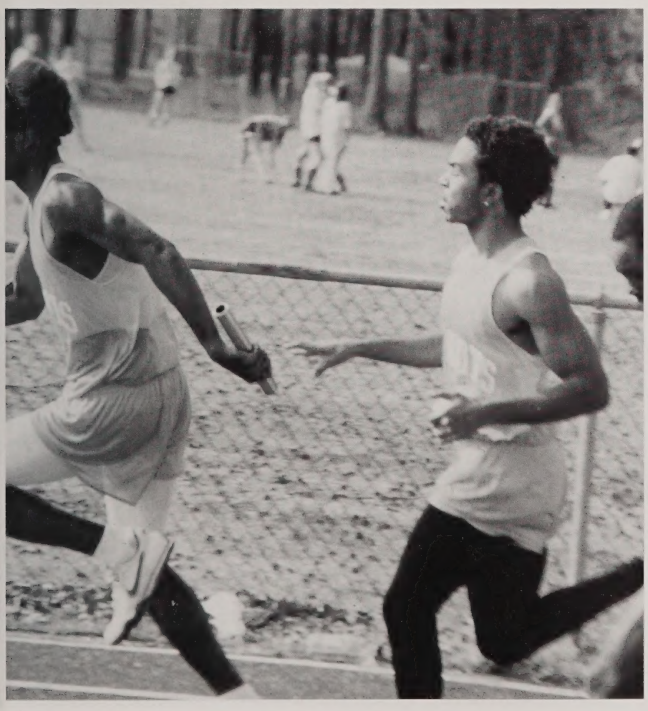
Another One Bites the Dust

The outdoor track team had a fly by season this year with Ashley Ezell leading the way as MVP. Behind her though, also ran a team full of strength and determination. Laurie Morgan, Jamie Darrah, Stephanie Salter, and Kelsey Taylor were key players in the team's success. Watching Jamie Darrah qualify in the 100 hurdles final at the Beach District was definitely a memorable moment for the team as well as watching the distance runners who were considered the team's biggest strength. Coach Benjamin and Coach Hines were excited about next season, saying, "We should have a great team who's ready to push for the District title."

Coach Jaton Hines



Reaching for the baton, Wallace Petty prepares to sprint for the final turn. His lightening speed contributed to the relay team's victory.

Leaping across the pit, Candi Cayton makes her mark in the sand. Candi's jump helped put her in the running for the lead position.

Kneeling at their starting positons, the dance team begins their performane at a basketball game. The girls were always a delight to watch during half time.

Jazzin' It Up

The musical theme for the Dance team was one of jazzy and upbeat numbers. The girls practiced twice a week to perfect their routine and dazzle the fans at school events. They began their season in the summer when they started doing car washes and selling pom-poms for spirt and VIP seating at the basketball games. Captains of the team were Seniors Kirsten Samdahl and Casey Guadagnini. Ashley Sawyer was a Co-Captain. The Lady Patrietts performed at football games, pep rallies, basketball games helping to entertain the fans during half time.

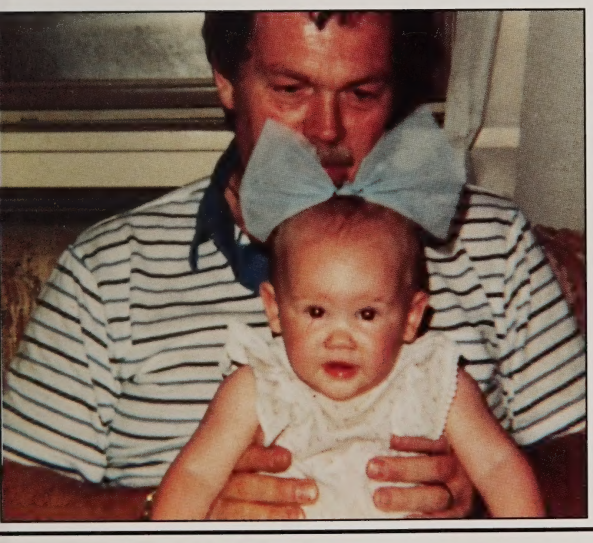
Nanny,

Watching you grow hasn't always been easy, but we couldn't be prouder of what you've become. You are my anchor to reality and my truest friend.



Remember, no matter what life may throw at you, never doubt that you are loved.

Love Always,

Dad and Becky

Lissa,
Your Moment has arrived, honey, where you will begin to start your dreams. Relax and be determined and things will find their means. I will always be beside you to catch you when you fall, lending a hand and helping you give it all.
Congratulations.....
Love,
Brian

Bethy,

Eleni Christie Damergis

You will never know how beautiful you are, only I know that. You will know what an immense joy giver you are. All that joy is with me. You have given joy and love unspeakable. What shall I give you in return---all that I have in my power to give... You have the most beautiful eyes in the world and the dearest hands. You contain the sweetness of flowers and soft winds and sun and I love you. -Isadora Duncan

We are so very proud of you, Eleni. May all of your experiences in college be joyful and memorable!

"It is easy to die for a friend, but hard to find a friend worth dying for!"

Tracy E. White

It seems like only yesterday when I watched as you ran to the school bus and went off to kindergarten. You have never stopped running! and now you are ready to run up the road to Longwood to study for a career as a kindergarten teacher! "You" will be the one others run to on their first day of school! I am so proud of all you have accomplished in your first 18 years, and look forward to the next 18...and the next 18! A wise young woman once told me "Because we can't call people without wings angels, we call them friends!" You are "my" best friend! I wish you the best of everything as you begin the next phase of your life!

God bless you and always remember...
There are angels watching over you!

Love, Mom

the 2001-2002 edition of the heritage contained 234 pages and was published by josten's printing and publishing, winston-salem, north carolina. the josten's representative was mr. kelly morgan. lifetouch national school studios took the club, faculty, sports, and underclassmen protraits. prestige studios took all senior portraits.

fonts used in this book are as follows:

helvetica was used for the folio tabs; palotino was used for all body copy and captions; lucida for all division pages and fragile icg for the colophon. color was used in the opening, student life and senior sections. sixteen pages of parental displays of affection were in color. tool lines, gray screens, and rounded edges were used in all sections. artwork for the folio tabs helped carry the theme throughout the book.

Aynsley,
Hey slut! Whats going on?
Lunch was great this year... we had some good times. We still need to venture out to "Elbow Road"
We should hang out this summer- Hopefully we'll have lunch together again next year!

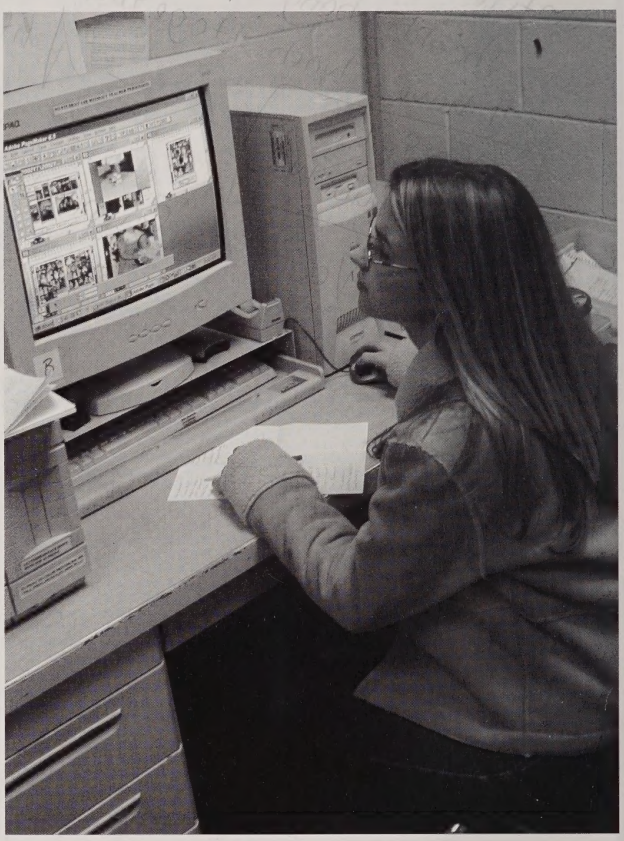
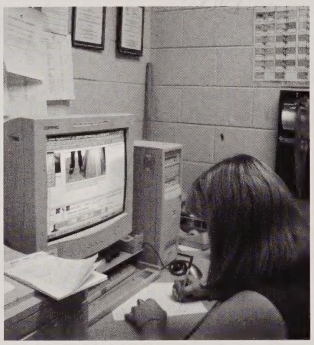
Yearbook Staff

Adding digital images into completed spreads, Jeni Detweiler prepares pages for submission. All spreads were typed into the computer and then sent to the plant on a zip disk.



Writing down names off completed spreads, Shannon Wynne adds the page numbers to the index. As co-editors, Jeni and Shannon spent many hours after school editing in the finishing touches before sending to the plant to be printed.



Creating spreads, the Heritage staff help each other by working in groups. Paired staff members were assigned certain spreads that had to be completed and entered into the computer by the designated deadline.

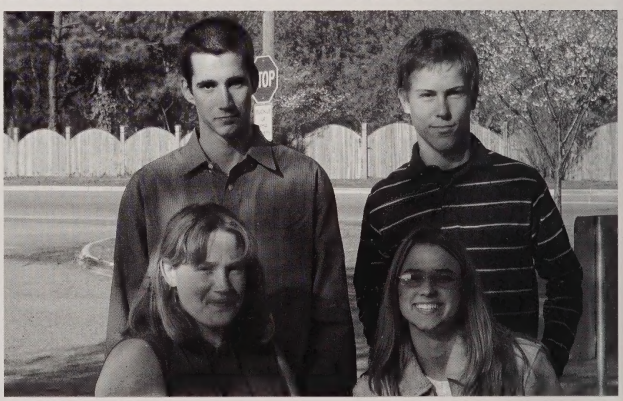
Shannon Wynne and Jeni Detweiler



Editors

Explaining how to fill out an ad for the Yearbook, Andy Stites encourages Katie Stites and Sara Rea to approach the business community with a positive attitude, know how they will introduce themselves, and be cautious of their appearance. As Business Manager, Andy instructed the staff, kept organized accounts and designed the Business Ad section for the book.

Marking the edge of the picture, Tela Dunlap crops a photo for the art spread. Staff members were assigned certain spreads, and then had to select and crop the photos as well as write the captions for each

Our Mark Is Made

Friend,

We need to hang out again this Summer & watch dirty movies, or pick up dirty drunk guys @ the beach, OR just lock Farley in the closet for laughs. I sincerely hope that you will be a huge part of Ginger's life - maybe even a Godmother. Keep shaving those legs

DUDE IT HAS ONLY JUST BEGUN WITH THE ALANTON WHORES!! IT HAS BEEN SO GREAT GETTING TO KNOW YOU THIS YEAR, WELL I KNEW YOU BEFORE THIS YEAR BUT, YEAH YOU KNOW WHAT I MEAN! I CANNOT WAIT UNTIL THIS SUMMER! WE ARE GOING TO HAVE FUN PARTYING B[redacted] RUCKUSING! AW ALL THE WAY BABY! YOU MADE SOCCER SO MUCH FUN THIS YEAR FROM THE POOBS TO THE SPINNING GAME! ITS SO COOL WE PLAY ALL THE SAME SPORTS! SWIM TEAM IS ALWAYS THE BEST, ESPECIALLY WHEN THERE IS A VIDEO CAMERA PRESENT! AND LETS NOT FORGET FIELD HOCKEY! MS. COURTNEY IS WELL YEAH IT'LL BE MUCH BETTER W/ YOU NEXT YEAR! THIS SUMMER AT THE EVER SO COOL ALANTON POOL WILL BE THE BEST YET CAUSE THERE ARE SO MANY ROOKIES WE CAN MESS WITH! WE ARE GOING TO BASH SOME LITTLE GIRLS HEADS TOO! WELL 2 DOWN 2 YEARS TO GO AT FC! GOOD LUCK NEXT YEAR!

LOVE, CHRISTIE

what are you going to do next year without Scutt there to grab when we are playing Sharks on the Sundays at swim team? And you won't get to be in his lane anther...hopefully someone new will come to take his place in the trans levcent suit! Hahaha! Don't forget to check in w/ Farley to see how baby Aynsley is doing!

Ayns- POOBS? You got pads in your bed?! What about that Double Bubble Gum? Thanks for making soccer so much fun this year, even if I was on the bench - you were great fun to watch and cheer on! I loved Roach's new look! Nice concussion to you too I must say! Glad you got to spend the night so we could go out ruckassing in the back on Andy's truck and then ride our bikes to school the next morning! Good times! You are awesome at field hockey - a rising star! You BETTER play next year! Just don't throw your stick and you will be fine! You sure made swimming fun by being a fellow "mediocre breaststroker"! You are great! Thanks for the LuLu's memories with bouncy balls and for Brynn's kidnapping! You helped to make my senior year awesome - from lunch to sports you were there! Glad you finally realized that Farley did actually like you! Took awhile you slow one! You better find a good dress next year for prom! Too bad we won't be able to go together and get one to match your skin tone, an American flag imposter, one with a dorsal fin, a band-aid dress, and the many others! I am gonna laugh when you get one with your personal bubble! Just be careful what you say in the dressing room! Thanks for ALL the memories! They are forever etched in my mind! Come take a road trip to JMU to visit me!

Love, Brittany Doyle "STILTS"

SORRY G!

Aynsley!

Well, Farley is sitting here right next to me and his eyes are all glassy over you - aaaaw ok, well maybe he is just sitting next to me - but anyhoo - you guys are cute! So I am so glad I got to really become friends this year with ya! You make me laugh so much & I will miss your humor next year. You are such a great gal... well next to me at least. Your little quirks are great! You better keep in touch & I might, just might let you visit me next year at UVA! Have a great summer lifeguarding - no more dropping kids in the pool & not catching them!

love ya!

- Aynsley -

Guess who. It's Lauren!

I had lots of fun with you in soccer this year. How many pieces of Bubblegum did you fit in your mouth? Next year will get further. Anyways, we need to hang out this Summer! Keep in touch 233-0091 ♡ ya lots,

#12 Lady Medley

P.S. Do you have pools in your bed?

Aynsley -

Holla playa! Yeah... So lunch was great this year... Not as good as last year... but still good! We still have to go to elbow road & play MINI golf! So you should call me this summer so we can cause a ruckuss & make random people mad! I will never forget the pretzel story... everytime I go on a plane I'll think of you! Have a good summer & dont get pregnant... again!

"Friendship is the music of life; although the melodies may differ, it's the harmony that makes life sweet."

Aynsley.

You got poobs in your bed?? This year has been so great! I'm so glad you, Britt, and Leigh convinced me to play this season'. Soccer games... good times! You are probably the single funniest person I know... never lose your incredible sense of humor; it is your greatest asset. Have a great time in your remaining years at FC, and best of luck in everything you do! Thanks for the memories!

Take care,

Barbara Besal

Aynsley!

What an awesome year eh? I had so much fun in PE with you! You're such an awesome girl! I can't wait to hangout this summer! you can teach me how to surf!!

463-1831

better call!

♡ MICHELE

Hey Sweetie,

Oh man, this year was sooo much fun w/soccer. You crack me up. I will never forget our bike ride to school + YOUR outfit. You looked the coolest. Gimme a call over the summer, we HAVE to chill. Love ya babe.

Aynsley
hey bebe! I'm really glad that we got to goof off all year this year! You are the coolest sophomore that I know! We're gonna have a blast next year! I'm sure we'll definitely come up with some new and improved jokes! It should be interesting, as always a ton of fun! Call me! I'm serious!
I'll miss you too much if I don't & see you till next year! Love ya bebe!

Poob head! Thanks for making my 1st yr. a real treat. There wasn't a day
I didn't look forward to being out there. Great goal against Great Bridge.
Looking forward to the next couple of years.

Aynsley ~
Hey Nypho! Gym class was Great this year - even though you made fun about me about "you know who". You're really annoying most days - you're still funny and make me laugh. ☺ Have a GREAT summer.
I hope we have a class together next year!

Hey Aynsley,
This was a fun year but I think last year was funner. Maybe because you were in more of my classes last year. I really hope I see you during the summer. So

Aynsley -

Hey hey! This year I could honestly say that I am extremely happy I got to know you. You are an amazing, fun-loving girl & I am really looking forward to next year. Hopefully I will see you this summer w/ Fat-Dog out or something. Have one HELL of a summer.

♡Jody

Aynsley,

hey sweetie! I've just really enjoyed having you as a feiend and a class mate in French class. I Love you girl! also you looked really pretty @ prom you were adorable! good luck to you and Farley. Hey! maybe you'll get to me in mine & Steven's wedding some day! (ha, ha)

Love you like a lil sista

Whazzzuuup!!!! Hahahaha! This music is creeping me out just a bit. (Yes, there is music as I am writing this.) What a year! So many more inside jokes and good times. This year has been really fun. Lunch was cool, ha, I'm really glad u were in mine. And farles too, hey, have fun with that! Haha j/k I hope your guys last forever too? Anyway, we are going to have an awesome summer at the ever so cool Alanton pool (pg 5 represent!) Yeah dawg. So we definetly need to go to the beach and get our surf on this summer. Hey, we'll get really good and we can be pro surfers! ECSC baby! I'm all over that. Seriously though, we'll get good. We have the whole summer. And it's gonna be great, I can feel it! Ha, there's a good sentimental quote. Whatever. Hey! Let's fold scarves (I'm not Michelle, she's the dumb one!) Yeah, we need to watch that again, for the millionth time. So hey, this yearbook is ok, but next year, the Aynsley and Stephanie yearbook. It's gonna rock! Coeditors baby yeah. And we get to go to yearbook camp. Hahahaha that will rock. Or not. But whatever. I can't wait untill this summer!! Oh its gonna be soooo much fun. Ha maybe you can help me pick up guyes at the beach! Good times homie! Wow should I not say that? Maybe not. We'll have a kickass summer (of course u will, I'll be there.) Well peace out. Cell- 343-9972

<3 ya Steph aka Space (not the dense blonde girl)

Hey Aynsley,

Man, this year has been so much fun! I would have never thought over a year ago we'd be where we are now, but I'm so glad we are. There have definately been a lot of good times, from thinking yours name was Anesley, to going in the ocean with all our clothes on, something about pools (Yea, I guess I had to be there to get that totally) Xeris, haha, and the recent Spirit movie. I've never known anyone that could "Naaaaj" like you do. Hey, someday you think you could teach me to dive off a diving board? Well, I know we're gonna have a lot of fun this summer, hopefully we can see a few more bad movies? Ha. You'll definately have to come up & see me while I'm in college.

Love, Haley

↑ THAT'S A LIE!

P.S.- You better not forget about me when I leave for college!!

Ansley,
Hey gurlie!
this year was fun... well when we started talking!
I hope you and Farley
last forever! haha!
by the end of the summer you know who will be gone! haha
j/k or talk to you next year.
Love ya
Jacki

Whats up Big Aynsley!
Wow its been a great year,
but kinda long I'm glad I got to know you and all of your weird habits in study block. Your nipple rubbing was a little much Aynsley You ART the best girl in the world don't ever change your freakish ways.
Have a great summer. Oh by the way thanks for finally dating Farley keep him under control!
call me well hang out

hey hey! what up girl!? we have to hang out this summer! Hole digging contest... Farleys gonna lose!
HDR - haha Farley never figured that one out! Varsity soccer with you was sooo → much fun! Call me so we can hang out this summer! 498-7604
I ♡ U! ♡ jessica

Farley def figure HDR out, Hole Digging Rollers!! Hahaa

Ansley,

The hell you have dibs on him!
u know what I'm talking about.
I'll fight you for him. I swear he gets hotter every time I see him, Hahahahaha peace out

Alyns,

I figured I'd about fighting
. Of all the people I know, you are definitely close to, You're also one of the few I touch with when I go to college. Thanks friend and more. You mean a lot, and touch.

Ansley,
Hey baby! It's been a great year. You the best. Have a great summer. We have to chill! Love you girl!
